GENERAL WORK OF THE BOARD

GENERAL WORK OF THE BOARD.

The Chairman of the Board is, ex officio, a member of each of the Standing Committees.

The Executive Committee consists of the Chairman, the Vice-Chairman, and the Chairmen of the Standing Committees.

The Clerk and Auditor of the Board is John D. Wells. The Superintendent of State Adult Poor is Joshua F. Lewis, M.D. The Superintendent of State Minor Wards is James E. Fee. In addition to these officers the Board employs a paid force of thirty-eight men and forty-five women, and receives the gratuitous services of fifty-seven auxiliary visitors, and one hundred and two almshouse visitors, all women; and of fifty-nine parole visitors, all men.

DUTIES OF THE BOARD.

The duties of the Board fall under two heads, viz., supervision and administration.

Supervision.

The duties of supervision comprise: —

a. The visitation and inspection of the State charitable institutions (excepting those under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Insanity and the Board of Prison Commissioners), the city and town almshouses, the truant schools, the children in the custody of the trustees of the Lyman and Industrial Schools cared for in families, and the children and adults supported in families by cities and towns. The purpose of this visitation and inspection is to secure the best possible care of public dependents, to make more effective and economical the system of public charity, and to report annually to the Governor and Council.

b. The publication of the results of visitation and inspection, of significant data regarding the number of paupers and the cost of public poor relief, and of other matters of public concern relating to such relief.

c. Recommendations to the Legislature for changes in old laws and the enactment of new ones, for the purpose of improving the system of public aid.

a. Visitation.

The direct visitation of the institutions is made by committees and members of the Board, by the Board's Superintendents of the Divisions of State Adult Poor and State Minor Wards, by the Examining Visitor of Institutions, and by subordinate officers of the Divisions. The Superintendent of State Adult Poor has the immediate oversight and visitation of the State Hospital at Tewksbury, the State Farm at Bridgewater, and the Massachusetts State Sanatorium at Rutland. The Superintendent of State Minor Wards has the oversight and visitation of the Lyman School for Boys at Westborough, the State Industrial School for Girls at Lancaster, and the Massachusetts Hospital School at Canton, and is also charged with the visitation of the several County Truant Schools. The visitation of the Lyman and Industrial School children in families and of the city and town adults and children in families is made by paid and unpaid agents of the Board. Almshouse visitation is the duty of an inspector appointed for this special purpose; and to his services are added, in a large proportion of the almshouse towns, the services of local women visitors, whose chief office is that of personal sympathy and comfort for the inmates.

The results of this visitation, with a single exception, are given on pages 38 et seq. of this Part of the Report. The exception is the work of almshouse inspection, recounted at length in Part III, which may be summarized here as follows: —

Since the establishment of the present method of almshouse inspection by the Legislature of 1900 the Board's record in the matter has been a record of steady progress. During this period, the Board's suggestions regarding the need of improvements and the correction of bad conditions have been followed, with few exceptions, by the local authorities. The inspector has gradually acquainted himself with almshouse conditions and requirements throughout the Commonwealth, has won the general confidence of almshouse officials, and effectually supplemented the recommendations of the Board. The volunteer visitors have done excellent work in studying the individual needs of the inmates, giving them comfort and cheer with generous words and acts, and in helping to disclose occasional cases of carelessness or neglect on the part of the management. As the service of these visitors is getting to be better understood by overseers and wardens, its value has become more evident to them.

During the past year the inspector has visited every almshouse once and a considerable number several times, making detailed reports of every visit; has held conferences with town committees, and many personal interviews with Overseers of the Poor; and has assisted in making several sets of building plans.

At Middleborough a new almshouse has been built; at Boston (Long Island) nearly $20,000 has been expended on renovation; at Charlton an addition has been constructed costing about $2,700; and fifty other cities and towns have expended over $300 each in repairs and improvements. Defects at Amherst, Belchertown, Charlton, Dennis, Monson, and Sutton have been remedied; but Easthampton, Gloucester, Holyoke, Lawrence, Marshfield, Ashburnham, Mansfield, Wayland, Wellesley, and Woburn were still, according to the last reports, open to criticism in regard to matters of heating, water supply, or construction. Almshouse salaries average about $580 per annum for warden and matron. Waltham, Wakefield, Concord, Lexington, and Somerset have a record of service of these officials of a quarter of a century or thereabouts, but in most cases the periods of such service are short. In 45 almshouses special hospital accommodations are provided. Nurses are regularly employed in but fifteen cities and towns. The standard of bathing once a week is low, but too many towns fall below that. Fourteen almshouses have libraries of books. Of the 192 almshouses, the large majority have buildings wholly of wood, the rest being of brick or stone. Sitting-rooms are provided in 130 almshouses, and the same number have fully equipped bath-rooms. Stoves furnish heat for 48 of them, the remainder being heated by steam, hot air, or hot water. In 51 cases electricity furnishes the light; a few are lighted by gas, and 133 by oil. They are generally well provided with fire-escapes where needed, and with good provision for extinguishing fire. The whole number of inmates at time of visitation was 4,787, viz., 2,785 men, 1,872 women, and 130 children, or persons under 21 years of age, — the children being either retained under the provisions of law, or, as happened in a few instances, if found there contrary to law, being removed by the Overseers after notice sent to them. The whole number of inmates during the year was 10,542, or 2,100 more than the preceding year. Of the number at time of visitation, there were 131 under 21 years of age; 474 between 21 and 40; 1,544 between 40 and 60; 2,638 60 years and over.

Of the whole number, 4,221 were reported as permanent, and 566, or about one-eighth of the whole, as temporary; and 2,208 were stated to have relatives in town. Board was paid by friends or by themselves for a total of 98. In 14 almshouses a total of 127 consumptive cases were found, about three-quarters of them in Boston. In most instances these consumptives were entirely separated from the rest of the inmates and received special diet and treatment, but there is still room for care and watchfulness in this respect on the part of officials. In 172 almshouses there were a total of 905 defective inmates; of whom 280 were reported as idiotic, 55 epileptic, 435 cripples, 89 blind, 23 idiotic and cripples, 9 epileptic and cripples, 5 blind and cripples, 1 deaf, dumb, and a cripple, 4 deaf and dumb, 1 idiotic and blind, 2 deaf and blind, 1 feeble-minded. A total of 133 able-bodied inmates under 60 years of age were found in 18 almshouses, most of them in Boston (Long Island), Fall River, and Lowell, — not a large number comparatively, but more than should be allowed. The number of vagrants has been still further reduced. From 15,491 in 89 almshouses three years ago, it fell a year later to 7,900 in 61 almshouses; a year after that, to 3,127 in 26 almshouses; and during the last year, to 423 in 26 almshouses. In connection with the almshouses was a total of about 19,000 acres, of which 6,267 were tilled. Milk was produced in 150 almshouses, and vegetables of various kinds in nearly all of them. The total valuation of land and buildings was $4,970,524.38, and the total cost of improvements, $96,110.45.

b. Publication.

In addition to its full Annual Report, of which 2,000 copies are printed, there are issued under the law, for the use of the Board, 500 copies of so much of the Report as relates to the city and town almshouses and statistics of paupers supported by cities and towns, and 1,000 copies of so much as relates to returns made by certain charitable corporations. Under the provisions of legislation of 1907 there has recently been published a manual, consisting of a compilation of laws relating to the Board, for the use of its members and officers, Overseers of the Poor, and others concerned. The Board also possesses a small but growing library of publications relating to special subjects of charity, for the use of its members and employees.

As already stated, the results of the Board's visitation are given in this Part of the Annual Report. In Part II are given abstracts of the reports of charitable corporations whose personal property is exempt from taxation, these reports being made annually to the Board, under the law.

It appears that there were 604 of these corporations. Of the whole number, notwithstanding repeated reminders, 43 failed to make any return, 44 were not in active operation generally because they had not accumulated sufficient funds for the purpose, and 20 had not completed their first year of operation and therefore could not make full reports. The remaining 497 corporations made practically complete reports. Their total valuation was $53,301,259.95, viz., property owned and occupied for corporate purposes, $22,224,262.29; investments, $31,076,997.66. Their chief sources of income were: subscriptions and donations, $1,731,961.78; bequests, $2,237,359; income from investments, $1,478,840.02; paying and partly paying beneficiaries, $1,980,409.32; sales and entertainments, $152,172.57; industries, $500,126.37. Their chief items of expense were: salaries and wages, $1,979,919.57; provisions and supplies, $2,113,841.96; repairs and improvements, $593,672.02. Their total running expenses were $6,473,636.75. The whole number of beneficiaries reported was 596,890, besides 7,478 families and 150 institutions. Of the individual beneficiaries, 209,250 were aided free, the remaining 287,640 either paying or partly paying for the services rendered. The total number of employees, to whom the amount of $1,979,919.57 was paid in the form of salaries and wages, was 6,421.

It is to be carefully noted that the publication of these reports does not mean that the charity work done by the corporations is known to and has received the endorsement of the State Board of Charity. The Board, under existing laws, is not in a position to determine either the need or the value of this work. It is also to be noted that the Board is not responsible for the correctness of the reports. They are carefully revised and evident errors are corrected, but with the exception of a single corporation, established by legislation of 1906 and 1908, the Board has no means of verifying the statements in question either by visitation or by examination of the treasurers' books.

The Board reaffirms its repeated suggestion that legislation should be secured, providing, first, for some method of verification of the most important items of the annual reports of these corporations; and secondly, for visitation by some central authority, if not of all the institutions, at least of the homes for the care of sick and aged poor and orphan and needy children. The Board believes in such legislation as a measure of protection for the recipients of aid, whose number is large, and also in view of the large amount of personal property owned by the corporations which is relieved from the burden of taxation, and the frequent inquiries made by individuals personally interested in the inmates and by others desiring to make gifts or bequests.

The Pauper Abstract, given in Part III of this Report, is prepared mainly from the returns made to this Board annually by the local Overseers of the Poor. These contain details respecting persons who have been supported or relieved within the year, and the expenses involved; and are fairly reliable in respect to the number of paupers relieved, but less so in regard to the cost. Relief outside the almshouses is as a rule under the immediate observation and control of the overseers or their agent, who should investigate each case as it arises, keep informed respecting it as long as relief is called for, and record the expenditures. The management of the almshouses is in many cases less closely watched by them; the receipts and expenditures are largely entrusted to the warden, who may be a good manager of the house and farm but an indifferent accountant, and who is often allowed to apply to almshouse uses, at his own discretion, sums received from sale of farm produce, accounting therefor to the overseers monthly, quarterly, or only at the end of the town year. In many, perhaps now in the majority of towns, all farm receipts are paid over to the town treasurer as received or at frequent intervals, and expenses incurred are paid by drafts upon the treasurer. That official can give a truthful statement of the almshouse account in such towns, while he could not under the loose system too prevalent. At present there is frequent want of agreement between the account of the overseers and the treasurer. Owing to the evident difficulty which overseers find in making up a satisfactory statement of expenses for the year which the law calls for, it has been customary to accept in the returns figures drawn from the town report, which is assumed to be made up with special care; and the town reports are habitually consulted to confirm, explain, or supplement the pauper returns. But the reports of the cities and towns are far from uniform in respect to the year they cover. Formerly the town year in the majority of cases did not differ very widely from the pauper year, which ends March 31. Of late, however, there has been a tendency to make the town year approximate the calendar year, which period has already been adopted by about one-fourth of the towns. From the examination of 269 recent reports of different cities and towns, it was found that a few only now end their year with November 30, less than one-fourth with January 31, a like number with February 28, and only 1 in 12 with March 31. To some extent the requirement of annual returns to the State Board in specified form has improved the accounts of overseers as printed in the town reports. It is manifest, however, that no exact comparison of one town with another can be made without the adoption of a common system of accounts, a common form of statement, and a common year; and this the Board hopes eventually to secure, coöperating in the matter with the Bureau of Statistics of Labor.

The Pauper Abstract, which is thus the joint product of the returns and the town reports, shows that in the past year full support was given to 12,084 different persons, — the average number having been 6,440, and the number remaining 6,772, — as against 11,405 persons in the previous year, with an average of 5,838, and the number remaining 6,176. This gives an increase of 679 in the whole number supported, of 602 in the average number, and of 596 in the number at the close of the year. The decision of the courts as to local liability for the support of settled inmates of the School for the Feeble-minded restores to municipal account about 200 persons excluded last year from the report of town charges.

Of the average number fully supported the past year, — 6,440, — 4,533 were cared for at the town almshouses, 893 in other institutions, and 1,014 in private families, as compared with 4,224 in almshouses, 645 in other institutions and 1,027 in families, for the previous year, — an increase of 309 in the almshouses, and 248 in other institutions, and a decrease of 45 in private families; on the whole, an increase of about 10 per cent. in the year. The rate of increase for the previous year was 6 per cent.

The number who received temporary aid or partial support was 57,735, or 4,868, or 9 per cent., more than in the previous year; the estimated average number being 18,744, or 583 larger than in 1906–07, — an increase of 32 per cent. Cases of vagrancy increased 46 per cent., being 38,318, as against 26,224 last year, though still less than in 1905–06, when there were 44,003. This indicates some reaction from the stringent application of the tramp laws of 1905.

The current expenditures of the cities and towns for the poor amounted to $2,484,740, against $2,401,930 for the preceding year; of which sum $1,066,342 was expended at the almshouses, $160,910 at other institutions, and $141,067 for support in private families, — a total for full support of $1,368,319, partial support, $921,700, and administration, $194,721. These expenditures were offset by receipts and reimbursements to the amount of $500,868, leaving the net expenses of the year $1,983,871, as compared with $1,887,259 in 1906–07, — an increase of $96,612, or a little above 5 per cent.

The maintenance of poor at the town almshouses cost the net sum of $762,425 for an average number of 4,533 persons, showing the average weekly rate to have been a little less than $3.24, or 15 cents less than in 1906–07. The net cost of poor in other institutions was $155,848 for an average number of 893, the weekly rate being above $3.35, or 38 cents more than in 1906–07; and support in private families cost $136,267 for an average of 1,014 persons, — a weekly rate of $2.50, or 6 cents less than in 1906–07, and precisely the same as in 1905–06.

In the aggregate, it appears that the net expenses for 69,161 persons relieved or maintained the past year by the cities and towns, including the unsettled poor aided in their homes, were $1,983,871, and the corresponding expenses of 1906–07 for 63,595 persons were $1,887,259, — an increase for the past year of 5,566 persons and of $96,612 in cost. These increases, of course, are but the reflection and in some degree a measure of the business depression which prevailed during the larger part of the period to which the returns relate.

State adult paupers, or paupers without known settlement, if fully supported are found chiefly in the State Hospital and the State Farm; at the State Hospital are many unsettled insane, and at the State Farm many of the criminal class also, neither of which are technically paupers. Excluding all these, the pauper class at the two institutions during the past year has averaged 1,609, as against 1,290 in 1906–07. Their approximate cost to the State this year has been $257,232, as compared with $180,948 in 1906–07.

The figures heretofore given for both State and town paupers show for the past year an average number fully supported of 8,049, at an aggregate cost of $1,311,772. The towns and cities report the numbers who have received partial support, and these theoretically include all State cases.

Special Investigations.

At different periods during the year, the Board made special investigations, and obtained results, as follows: —

Inquiry concerning the Care of Feeble-minded Women.

On December 19, 1907, the Board addressed the following inquiry to the State Boards of Charities or other available authorities of the several States of the Union: —

> The State Board of Charity of Massachusetts is desirous of obtaining information regarding the law and the practice in other States of the Union relative to the care of women, not technically feeble-minded, but more or less weak in intellect, who have given birth to illegitimate children.
> Will you have the kindness to inform me what provision is made in your State, whether by legal enactment or otherwise, for the segregation and special care of this class of persons in almshouses or other places of detention.

Following is a summary of the replies: —

Of the 46 States and territories addressed, answers were received from all excepting Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Jersey, and South Carolina. Of these, 18 state that they make no provision for the class of persons concerned, viz., Arkansas, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Montana, Nebraska, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Vermont, Washington, Wyoming, Arizona, and District of Columbia; and 11 state that such persons are cared for to a greater or less extent in almshouses, viz., Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Indiana reports that there is a custodial department in the State School for Feeble-minded, to which feeble-minded women between the ages of 16 and 45 may be committed by the court. Indiana also refers to a law regarding sterilization of defectives and degenerates, passed by the Legislature of 1907.

Iowa reports that women of this class up to the age of 46 years may be admitted to the Institution for Feeble-minded Children.

Maine reports that there has been no provision hitherto, but the Legislature of 1907 established the Maine School for Feeble-minded, where it is intended to care for women of the class concerned.

Minnesota reports that provision is made for such women in the Custodial Ward of the School for Feeble-minded.

Nevada reports that there is no provision, except possibly commitment to the State Asylum for the Insane.

New Hampshire reports that such cases are cared for in almshouses, where they are sometimes detained as long as the county commissioners think it advisable.

New York reports that provision is made for such cases in the Newark State Custodial Asylum for Feeble-minded Women.

North Dakota reports no provision, unless such women may possibly be provided for in the State Institution for Feeble-minded.

Ohio reports that such persons have been sent to county infirmaries, and that a number of the women inmates of the Institution for Feeble-minded might be classed as weak-minded.

Pennsylvania reports that some are cared for in State institutions for feeble-minded and some in the county almshouses.

Utah reports that there is no special institution for the care of these cases, but that in Salt Lake City there is an organized society for this and other purposes.

Wisconsin reports that there are some such cases in the Home for Feeble-minded.

Inquiry concerning the Dispensing of Medicine to Poor Persons by Cities.

Early in the year the Board sent the following inquiries to Overseers of the Poor of the several cities of the Commonwealth: —

1. Whether in dispensing medicine to poor persons you are accustomed to acquaint them with the fact that in receiving such medicine they are receiving pauper aid?
2. To what extent is it your custom to give pauper aid to children asking for the same in behalf of their parents?

Following is a summary of the answers received to the first inquiry: —

Of the 33 cities, 22 (Boston, Brockton, Cambridge, Chelsea, Chicopee, Everett, Fall River, Fitchburg, Gloucester, Lawrence, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Newburyport, Northampton, Pittsfield, Quincy, Salem, Taunton, Waltham, Woburn, and Worcester) state that in dispensing medicine to poor persons they always inform them that they are receiving pauper aid; 3 (Haverhill, Lynn, and North Adams) generally inform them to that effect; 1 (Beverly) tries to do so; 1 (Somerville) so informs them in most cases and will hereafter in all cases; 5 (Holyoke, Lowell, New Bedford, Newton, and Springfield) think that the applicants understand that they are receiving pauper aid; and 1 (Marlborough) gives no such information.

The second inquiry was answered as follows: —

Of the 33 cities, 7 (Chelsea, Chicopee, Fitchburg, Melrose, Newton, Brockton, and Lynn) give no pauper aid to children asking for it in behalf of their parents; 18 (Beverly, Boston, Cambridge, Everett, Fall River, Gloucester, Holyoke, Lawrence, Malden, New Bedford, North Adams, Northampton, Pittsfield, Somerville, Taunton, Waltham, Woburn, and Worcester) give aid to children when parents are ill, and in other exceptional cases; 4 (Haverhill, Quincy, Salem, and Springfield) give such aid to a limited extent; 2 (Lowell and Medford) discourage the habit; and 2 (Marlborough and Newburyport) give such aid.

The Board subsequently communicated with the Overseers of the Poor of all the cities and towns of the Commonwealth, as follows: —

The State Board of Charity begs to offer the following suggestions to the Overseers of the Poor of the several cities and towns of the Commonwealth: —

1. That in dispensing medicine to poor persons it should be made clear to them that in receiving such medicine they are receiving pauper aid.

2. That pauper aid should not be given to children asking for the same in behalf of their parents unless they bring a physician's certificate to the effect that the parents are too ill to ask for such aid in person.

Inquiry concerning the Treatment of Tramps by Cities and Towns.

On June 1, 1908, the Board sent the following circular to the several cities and towns of the Commonwealth: —

1. Under which branch of local government (i.e., Police or Overseers of the Poor) are tramps cared for?

2. If under police: (a) Does an arraignment in court follow? If so, what complaint is made in court, and what is the usual sentence? (b) What accommodations are provided? What sanitary arrangements? beds? food?

3. If under Overseers of the Poor: (a) Are they lodged and fed, or is aid refused? (b) Is work required? If so, what is the character of the work? (c) Are accommodations apart from paupers provided, as required by law? What accommodations are provided as to sanitary arrangements? beds? food?

4. Do your local private charities care for them? Are applications made by them to private individuals? Are there more applications than formerly?

5. Do tramp camps exist in your town or vicinity?

6. Are fewer tramps now cared for than in the years just before the enactment of chapters 344 and 348 of the Acts of 1905?

7. (a) Does the requirement for separate quarters prevent your town from caring for them? (b) Do the regulations of the State Board of Health prevent your town from caring for them? What changes, if any, would you make in those regulations?

8. Does the expense of arrest, trial, and transportation deter the town from prosecuting them?

9. What is your opinion as to the value of the laws of 1905, regarding the care of tramps by cities and towns?

10. Do you think that any persons who are really working men in search of employment have been recently dealt with as tramps in your town? If so, how many? Are such persons cared for by private charity, or in other ways?

In compliance with this inquiry, 281 out of the 354 cities and towns of the Commonwealth made reports. In 38 cases the reports contained the bare statement that no tramps were cared for.

Question 1: Of the 281 cities and towns, 77 stated that tramps were cared for by police, and 153 that they were cared for by Overseers of the Poor; the rest made no reply.

Question 2: The answers to this question are imperfect. Of the police cases reported, 54 resulted in an arraignment in court; and of these, 22 were committed to the State Farm, 1 was fined, and 1 was committed to a house of correction. The period of court commitments varied from ten days to six months. There were 36 cases provided for in lock-ups, 8 in cells, 2 in tramp houses, 4 in small houses, and 1 in a room. Sanitary arrangements are reported as generally good, but are rarely otherwise specified. Beds are described as bunks, planks, berths, benches, boards, etc. Food is generally reported as good, varying from crackers and water to full meals.

Question 3: The answers to this question are also imperfect. In 54 towns the applicants are reported as lodged and fed, and in 12 they were refused aid. In 31 towns work was required, and in 58 was not required. Work was generally sawing and splitting wood; in a few instances, farm work. Almost without exception the law requiring separate accommodations is reported as complied with. Sanitary arrangements are reported as generally good, but are rarely clearly described. Beds are reported as generally good. Food is reported as varying from crackers to soup, bread, and coffee.

Question 4: Eight towns replied that their local private charities cared for tramps, and 177 that they did not care for them; 68 that applications were made by tramps to private individuals; 99 that such applications were not made; 4 that there were more applications than formerly, and 195 that there were not more, but generally far less.

Question 5: Eleven towns stated that there were tramp camps in their vicinity, and 218 that there were no tramp camps.

Question 6: Two hundred towns stated that fewer tramps were cared for than just prior to the enactment of the tramp acts of 1905, and 16 towns that there were not fewer.

Question 7: Fifty-six towns stated that the requirement for separate quarters prevented their towns from caring for tramps, and 138 that the requirement had no such effect; 55 towns that the regulations of the State Board of Health prevented their towns from caring for tramps, and 122 that these regulations had no such effect; 93 towns would make no changes in the regulations; 5 find them too stringent; and 3 would abolish them.

Question 8: Thirty-three towns replied that the expense of arrest, trial, and transportation deterred the town from prosecuting tramps, and 147 that it did not.

Question 9: One hundred and twenty-three towns declared the laws of 1905 regarding tramps to be good; and 12 to be unsatisfactory.

Question 10: Twenty-seven towns were of the opinion that some persons who were working men in search of employment had been treated as tramps, 178 that they had not been so treated. The replies about the number of persons so treated were indefinite and unsatisfactory; 22 towns reported that such persons were cared for by private charity, and 7 that they were cared for in other ways.

Inquiry concerning the Investigation and Treatment of Pauper Cases by Cities and Towns.

Questions were placed in the hands of eight settlement visitors of the Board, assigned to different districts of the State, with instructions to furnish replies. The replies were given in considerable detail, and are fairly unanimous. The following statement gives summaries of the visitors' reports and citations from them: —

Question 1. Are Overseers frequently changed, so that inexperienced Overseers must learn by experiment and experience? Answer. (Summary.) Overseers are more frequently changed in cities than in towns. In most of the cities and in a few of the larger towns the periods of service are long, but in a large majority of cases changes are frequent, and inexperienced men are elected who seldom hold office long enough to obtain a practical knowledge of the work. (Extracts from reports.) Towns elect their Overseers for three years, and the average overseer retires at the end of his term, as it requires too much work for the nominal salary paid. — In most of the towns of this district Overseers are either old men who have given up business, or younger men who use the office as a stepping-stone to higher political honor. In one of the cities the Board has had an entire new membership twice within two years.

Question 2. What cities and towns employ an official to give all necessary time to investigation and relief, — as one of the Overseers, or a clerk, or a visitor? Does such official usually continue in office long, and over changes in the Board of Overseers? Answer. (Summary.) Most of the cities and a few of the towns employ salaried agents who give their whole time to the work of investigation and relief. These agents generally have long terms of service. In all other cases the work is done by one or more of the Overseers of the Poor. (Extracts from reports.) In this district 18 cities and towns employ officials for investigation and dispensing of relief. In the cities such officials remain long in office. In many of the towns the Board of Overseers is also the Board of Selectmen and the Board of Assessors, and in such cases these officials have some private business besides. — Towns of large area are divided into three districts and an overseer is elected from each. — One city employs a paid visitor, whose only duty is to investigate the homes of paupers; his investigations are frequent and thorough. All cases are treated alike, whether it be the city's own case or the case of a pauper who has a settlement in another city, or the case of a State pauper. Another city employs a man on a salary, whose duty it is to visit the poor; but this duty is performed in a most perfunctory manner. A city or town case is never visited; a State case may be visited once, but an investigation of a home is never made. — In one city of this district, and in the towns, the whole work of looking after State cases is left to the State visitor. In another city the Overseers themselves investigate. They do not give all their time to it, but they do their work pretty well. — Three cities and three towns of this district employ agents who practically hold office permanently. All the towns pay a chairman or clerk to investigate, but such investigation is generally superficial. — Five cities and two towns employ paid officials who give all their time to the work, and are not affected by changes in their Boards of Overseers; and men of experience and ability keep their positions steadily. — Three cities of this district have paid agents, who in two cases have remained in office several years, and give all their time to the work. In the other three cities the agents give two hours daily to the work, and the State visitor does nearly all the investigation. — Two cities employ a visitor with an annual salary, and two others act through the secretary of the Board, who is a member. — In the larger towns the chairman generally does the work and has additional pay. As a rule, the Overseers try to meet the requirements of their office, but too often they are inexperienced and their tenure of service is not long enough for them to obtain practical knowledge of their duty, especially with regard to the pauper laws; and this often results in a loss to the towns they represent.

Question 3. Do Overseers look to State Board visitors for standards of work, as in investigations? Answer. (Summary.) Generally in towns and to some extent in cities. (Extracts from reports.) Officials look largely to the State visitor for standards of work and construction of settlement laws. — In towns Overseers always look to the State visitor for guidance, and in cities very often. There is only one official in this district who is not obliged to do this, because of his long experience and his natural adaptability for the work. — In most of the towns the State visitor is expected to investigate the case. In the cities the clerk or almoner has more cases to deal with and has more experience, but often asks visitors' advice. — Not in the cities, but in the towns. No matter how long the overseer has been in office he looks to the visitor for standards. As a rule, investigations of the visitor are accepted as reliable, but are not always acted on. — The large cities in my district do not depend on the State visitor.

Question 4. What are the objects, primarily, of investigations by overseers? i.e., to ascertain the needs of persons, to ascertain settlement. Are efforts made to find the causes of need, in order to find remedies, and so to do away with dependence? Answer. (Summary.) The first inquiry is generally regarding the need of relief, and the second to determine the question of settlement. Causes of need and remedies are rarely sought. (Extracts from reports.) Overseers first investigate facts as to settlement, and afterwards proceed no further if applicant has no legal settlement in place of residence. — Principal object is to find settlement, and afterwards do as little as possible. No great effort made to ascertain causes of need. In nine cases out of ten it it simply a matter of dollars and cents to the Overseers. Applicants call on Overseers, making case as pathetic as possible, and Overseers aid without pressing investigation, rarely thinking of remedies. — Overseers first ask whether applicant needs relief, then examine the matter of settlement. Investigation made by Overseers is usually very slight, being limited to the applicant's statement. The question facing the Overseers is the relief of distress. This being answered, they seldom go further, and make no effort to provide for remedies. — In most of the towns it is assumed that the applicants stand in need of relief, although the Overseers generally know something about them. In many cases Overseers never visit people at their homes. — Overseers have scores of applicants on their books whom neither they nor their visitor have ever seen. Very little is done by the Overseers to remedy conditions. The first object is to ascertain need of relief, and in many cases this is determined by the statement of the applicant, without investigation or verification, and mistakes often occur in this way; but in cities where a regular visitor is employed, it is becoming the rule to investigate prior to aid. — Efforts rarely made to find remedies, though some Overseers make an effort in this direction. It is an individual rather than an official characteristic. — In this district investigation is first to learn need of aid, then to give aid if necessary. In one large city a member of the family able to work is required to work, payment being made in groceries and fuel at the rate of $1 a day. Question of settlement is determined later. Efforts are made to find causes of need, and employment secured if possible.

Question 5. Are requests for aid received from children in- stead of from the men or women? From the women instead of from the men? Answer. (Summary.) Frequently from women and children, but in cases of children aid is generally refused, and women are refused if nothing prevents man from coming in. (Extracts from reports.) Aid not given to children, but often to women. It is the fundamental principle of pauper law that you cannot allow the wife and children to suffer if the head of the family refuses to make application and the wife applies instead. — Woman usually applies; after first aid, children often apply. Overseers opposed to practice, and everything done towards discontinuance. As a rule, Overseers have hard work to get a man to make application for his dependent family. — In exceptional cases of well-known families, or frequent applicants, children apply for aid and receive it. Usually they bring a note from their mother. — Applications by wife exceed those made by husband. Overseers try to suppress evil of sending children. In some cities it is forbidden, but in none absolutely prevented. — More applications by woman than man; husband unwilling to apply, knowing that he may be required to work, or he may be sick or he has deserted his family.

Question 6. Is aid secured from relatives; by legal action, if necessary? Answer. (Summary.) Aid is rarely sought or secured from relatives, except in Boston and one or two other places. Legal action is rarely taken by cities and towns with reference to reimbursement. (Extracts from reports.) Aid not secured from relatives because few are able, and those that are able are not required by law. — Soliciting aid from relatives is seldom done; few paupers have such relatives. Courts not inclined to place burden of support on those legally liable unless there is some property to be attached. — In this district relatives if able are always appealed to, often with success. The amount they give may be small, and applicant finds it necessary to apply for further relief from Overseers. — No legal steps to compel relatives to provide for dependents.

Question 7. What is done in the way of providing substitutes for material aid — as in finding work or helping persons to find work? Answer. (Summary.) Generally little or nothing is done in this way. (Extracts from reports.) Rarely is work made a substitute for material aid. Overseers as a rule are not in a position to procure work. Persons seeking relief are not, as a class, such as labor employers desire. — In two cities and two towns Overseers do what they can to improve position of poor applying for aid, but in most cases nothing is done toward securing work. — Little is done to provide a substitute for material aid. This field is regarded as the special province of Associated Charities and kindred organizations. — In one city with a wood yard, able-bodied applicants saw and split wood and receive pay in groceries, fuel, etc. In winter, two cities give able-bodied applicants six to nine hours' work at the city farm. Occasionally Overseers intercede with heads of other city departments to employ the poor. — Emergency aid, such as removing snow, is often resorted to, and Overseers frequently try to find occupation for members of dependent families.

Question 8. Is material aid given often to families of habitual drunkards? Answer. (Summary.) Families of habitual drunkards are very generally aided, except in some cases where the husband is at home and in others where the wife is unwilling to appear as a witness against her husband. (Extracts from reports.) Such aid must be given, otherwise such families would starve. — The drunkard's family is often the one that stands most in need of aid, and is most worthy. — Aid constantly given to families of habitual drunkards, but rarely if he is at home and not ill. — Groceries in summer and groceries and fuel in winter given in such cases. Overseers aid when husband is away, but generally not when he is at home.

Question 9. Are conditions as to need frequently reviewed, so that material aid can be stopped as soon as possible? Answer. (Summary.) In some cities conditions are frequently reviewed, but as a rule insufficient attention is given to this matter. (Extracts from reports.) In most of the cities and in some of the towns the cases are frequently reviewed. — Overseers invariably neglect to follow cases by frequent visiting, the practice being to allow the case to run itself out, that is, the applicant stops applying and the case is closed. The only reviewing by the Overseers is the occasional questioning of the pauper at the time of application. — Few visitors do more than ask applicant if change has occurred so that aid can be stopped. Overseers appreciate imperfection of this method, but are unable to do more than make general investigation. In some towns a standing order is given for a limited or indefinite period, and frequently a person will get several orders even after it is no longer necessary. — In cities where there are many applicants, in the original application aid is given without a special inquiry, although as a rule reasonable care is exercised to close the case as soon as possible. — The condition of persons receiving relief is always a subject for thought and a question for review. Employment of those able to work and reasons why they are not working are always before the Overseers. Anything that can be done to assist a family to improve their lives has the support and coöperation of the Overseers of the Poor.

It may be added, especially with regard to State cases, that the general tendency among local officials is to make as little investigation as possible. Incomplete and insufficient notices in such cases are sent to the State Board, and the chief burden of investigation is thrown upon the State agents. The establishment of a better system of visitation, and a closer investigation, especially with reference to new cases, on the part of the town authorities, is very much to be desired. Further coöperation between Overseers of the Poor and private charities in these matters is also urged.

c. Legislation.

The principal recommendations for legislative action presented by the Board in its last Annual Report were an extension of the probation system for children and an enlargement of the juvenile court system.

The Legislature of 1907 passed the following resolve: —

Resolves of 1907, Chapter 121.

Resolve to provide for an investigation and report by the state board of charity relative to the establishment of an industrial school for boys.

Resolved, That the state board of charity is hereby instructed to investigate the needs of the establishment of an industrial school for boys for the industrial training, instruction and reformatory treatment of such boys as are now excluded from the Lyman school for boys by the age limit upon commitment thereto. The board shall consider proper sites for such a school and all matters incident thereto, and report to the next general court not later than January first, nineteen hundred and eight. Said report shall be accompanied by working plans, specifications, and at least three reliable estimates of its cost. The board may expend in carrying out the provisions of this resolve a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars.

Approved June 21, 1907.

Immediately after the passage of the resolve the Board began to consider the question of securing a proper site for the school proposed. Advertisements were inserted in newspapers of Boston and other places, asking for offers of a tract of land of about 400 acres, suited to the use of a school. Numerous replies were received, but in most instances the sites offered were unavailable, either on account of their small size, their distance from Boston, the price asked, too great a distance from steam or trolley connections, or the general unsuitability of the location. After a careful investigation of the whole matter the Board unanimously agreed upon a lot of nearly 400 acres in the town of Charlton, with buildings thereon. The original cost of the land and buildings was about $250,000, and it was offered to the State for $55,000. The purchase of this property was recommended to the Legislature.

Since the Board's report on the subject was made, the Shirley property came into the market; and the Board fully endorses the recent action of the Trustees in their purchase. (See p. 57.)

Their terms of office shall be so designated at the time of appointment that the term of one member shall expire on the second Wednesday of July in each of the five years following; and in each year hereafter the said chief justice shall in like manner appoint one member for a term of five years. A vacancy in the commission shall be filled in the same manner for the unexpired term. Any member of the commission may be removed by the chief justice. The commission shall appoint a deputy commissioner, who shall be its executive officer and shall hold office during its pleasure. He shall perform such duties as may be required of him by the commission; and shall receive such salary as it shall determine. The commission shall be provided with suitable office accommodations, in the Suffolk county court house or elsewhere, and may employ such assistance as is needed to perform its work. The members of the commission shall receive no compensation for services hereunder, but they and the deputy commissioner shall be allowed the necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties. The expense incurred under this section shall not exceed five thousand dollars in any one year, and shall be paid from the treasury of the commonwealth, and the bills therefor shall be approved and paid in the same manner in which other bills against the commonwealth are approved and paid.

Section 2. The commission shall prescribe the form of all records and of all reports from probation officers, and shall make rules for the registration of reports and for the exchange of information between the courts. It shall provide for such organization and co-operation of the probation officers in the several courts as may seem advisable. To promote co-ordination in the probation work of the courts, the commission may call a conference of any or all of the justices of the municipal, police and district courts and the Boston juvenile court, or a conference of any or all of the probation officers and assistant probation officers; and a member of the commission shall preside over all such conferences. With the approval of the commission the prison commissioners, or the state board of charity, may hold a conference with any or all of the probation officers for the purpose of securing the co-operation of such officers in keeping trace of the whereabouts of persons who are at liberty from the prisons of the commonwealth. The travelling expenses of said justices or officers in attending any conference herein named, shall be paid as the other expenses of the respective courts are paid.

Section 3. Every probation officer, except where there is more than one probation officer in any court, then the senior probation officer, shall transmit to the commission in such form and at such times as it shall require, detailed reports regarding the work of probation in the court; and under the direction of the commission a record shall be kept of all such cases as the commission may require for the information of the justices and probation officers. It shall be the duty of police officials to co-operate with the commission and the probation officers in obtaining and reporting information concerning persons on probation. The information so obtained and recorded shall be accessible at all times to the justices and officers of the courts, to the police commissioner of the city of Boston, and to all chiefs of police and city marshals. The prison commissioners and the state board of charity shall at all times give to the commission and the probation officers such information as may be obtained from the records concerning prisoners under sentence or who have been released.

Section 4. In the first week of January annually the commission shall transmit to the general court a report of the probation work of the courts for the year ending on the thirtieth day of September preceding. The report shall include such information as the commission may consider to be useful, with any suggestions or recommendations that it desires to make. Five hundred copies of the report shall be printed for the special use of the commission.

Section 5. The provisions of this act shall not affect the authority of the courts to require the keeping by their probation officers of probation records in addition to those necessary in order to conform to forms of records and reports prescribed by the commission. The authority of the courts to approve expenses and disbursements relating to the probation system shall not be affected by any provision of this act.

Section 6. Sections eighty-five to ninety, both inclusive, of chapter two hundred and seventeen of the Revised Laws, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed. But nothing herein shall be construed to repeal or affect the provisions of chapter four hundred and thirteen of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and six.

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The governor, with the advice and consent of the council, shall, during the month of June of the current year, appoint a board of seven trustees, two of whom shall be women, in whom and in their successors shall be vested the government and management of a school for the industrial training and for the instruction and reformatory treatment of boys committed thereto. Said institution shall be known as the Industrial School for Boys. The terms of office of the trustees shall begin on the first day of July following their appointment. Of the trustees first appointed under this act two shall hold office for two years, two for three years, two for four years and one for five years, or until their successors are appointed; and the governor shall appoint annually thereafter, in the month of June, successors of the trustees whose terms are about to expire, and such successors shall hold office for five years from the first day of July next ensuing. Said board shall be a corporation for the purpose of taking, holding and investing in trust for the commonwealth any grant or devise of land, or any gift or bequest of money or other personal property made for the use of said school. Said trustees are hereby authorized to purchase, in behalf of the commonwealth, real estate, with such personal property as may be upon the same, as a site for said school.

Section 2. With the approval of the state board of charity the trustees may erect new buildings, and may alter and repair buildings upon the property purchased. They may also equip and furnish buildings so erected, altered or repaired. Said trustees shall have authority to make all contracts and employ all agents necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. Their reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of their duties under the first two sections of this act shall be paid from the appropriation for carrying out the provisions hereof. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the first two sections of this act the trustees of said school may expend a sum not exceeding eighty-five thousand dollars, but no expenditure shall be made under said sections except for the purchase of a site for said school and for plans, until said state board shall certify that in its opinion the cost of purchasing land and buildings, as aforesaid, of altering and repairing buildings upon the land purchased, of erecting and making ready for occupancy any new building or buildings under the provisions of this section, and of furnishing and equipping any building erected, altered or repaired as aforesaid, will not exceed eighty-five thousand dollars, and the total expenditures made and liabilities incurred under the provisions of said sections shall not exceed that amount.

Section 3. When the buildings are ready for occupancy the trustees shall notify the governor, who shall thereupon issue his proclamation establishing said school; and thereafter, if it shall appear to any police, district or municipal court or trial justice that any boy not less than fifteen years of age who has been adjudged to be a delinquent child, or any boy not less than fifteen nor more than eighteen years of age who has been convicted of any offence punishable by imprisonment other than imprisonment for life, is a suitable subject for said school, and that his welfare and the good of society require that he should be sent thereto for industrial training, for instruction and for reformatory treatment, the court may issue a warrant of commitment to said school. So far as they are applicable, except as herein otherwise provided, all provisions of law in relation to commitments to the Lyman school for boys shall extend to commitments to said industrial school. A boy committed to said school as aforesaid may be held therein until he attains the age of twenty-one years, and the custody of such boy shall be in said trustees until that age is attained, excepting during such time as he shall be absent from said school in the Massachusetts reformatory. Said trustees may release from said school upon probation any inmate thereof, and may recall him from probation. They may employ such agents as may be required for the care of such probationers.

Section 4. Upon the request of the trustees of the Lyman school for boys, the trustees of said industrial school may transfer to it any inmate of said Lyman school, and may transfer any inmate of said industrial school to said Lyman school with the consent of its trustees. The trustees for children of the city of Boston may transfer to said industrial school any boy committed to the Suffolk school for boys after the passage of this act. Upon application of the trustees, the prison commissioners may remove to the Massachusetts reformatory any inmate of said industrial school, and upon a further application may return him to said school. A boy so removed to said reformatory shall be subject to all laws relating to the other inmates thereof until he is returned to said school. With the consent of the trustees, the prison commissioners may remove to said industrial school any boy under the age of seventeen years who is sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory. When a boy is removed or returned under this act, all mittimuses, processes and other official papers, or copies thereof, by which he is held, shall be removed or returned with him; and he may be held in the institution to which he is removed or returned until the expiration of the term for which he was originally committed. After the establishment of said industrial school, no boy who is more than fifteen years of age shall be committed to the Suffolk school for boys.

Section 5. The trustees shall have general charge of said school and of all its interests. They shall, from time to time, establish rules, regulations and by-laws for its government, for the direction of its officers and the instruction and discipline of its inmates; and they shall see that its affairs are conducted according to law and to said rules, regulations and by-laws. They shall appoint a superintendent who shall be the executive officer of the school and, subject to the approval of the governor and council, they shall fix his compensation.

Section 6. Said trustees and the state board of charity shall have the same rights and powers, be charged with the same duties and be subject to the same responsibilities in regard to said industrial school and to the officers and inmates thereof as by law are given to or imposed upon said board and upon the trustees of the Lyman and industrial schools in regard to the Lyman school for boys and its officers and inmates. Sections six, seven and nine of chapter eighty-six of the Revised Laws shall apply to the superintendent of said school; and all other laws in relation to the duties, powers and obligations of officers of said Lyman school, so far as they may be applicable, shall extend to officers of the said industrial school.

Section 7. For the purpose of meeting the expenses incurred under the provisions of this act, the treasurer and receiver general is hereby authorized, with the approval of the governor and council, to issue scrip or certificates of indebtedness to an amount not exceeding eighty-five thousand dollars, for terms not exceeding thirty years. Such scrip or certificates of indebtedness shall be issued as registered bonds or with interest coupons attached, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of May and November. They shall be designated on the face thereof, Prison and Hospital Loan, shall be countersigned by the governor, shall be deemed a pledge of the faith and credit of the commonwealth, and the principal and interest thereof shall be paid at the times specified therein in gold coin of the United States or its equivalent. Such scrip or certificates of indebtedness shall be disposed of at public auction, or in such other manner, and at such times and prices, and in such amounts, and shall bear such rates of interest, not exceeding four per cent per annum, as shall be deemed best for the commonwealth, but none of the same shall be sold at less than the par value thereof. The sinking fund established by chapter three hundred and ninety-one of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and seventy-four, known as the Prison and Hospital Loan Sinking Fund, shall also be maintained for the purpose of extinguishing bonds issued under the authority of this act: and the treasurer and receiver general shall apportion thereto from year to year an amount sufficient with the accumulations of said fund to extinguish at maturity the debt incurred by the issue of said bonds. The amount necessary to meet the annual sinking fund requirements and to pay the interest on said bonds shall be raised by taxation from year to year.

Of the deaths, 62 were of persons under one year of age, and 168 were of persons over sixty. There were 503 surgical operations.

In the hospitals, 945 cases of phthisis and 98 of other forms of tuberculosis were treated; 4 were discharged as well, 359 as relieved, and 82 as not relieved; 259 died, leaving 241 on November 30, 1908.

Of the 6,368 persons admitted, 1,796 were born in Ireland, 692 in the British Provinces, 337 in England, 266 in Italy, 195 in Russia, 82 in Scotland, 78 in Turkey, 67 in Sweden, 63 in Austria, 56 in Poland, 49 in Germany, 40 in Syria, 37 in Greece, 26 in Finland, 18 in France, 17 in Portugal, 16 in West Indies, 15 in Armenia, 14 in the Azores, 11 in Denmark, 10 in Wales, 8 in the Western Islands, 7 in Norway, 6 in Belgium, 6 in Cape Verde Islands, 5 in China, 4 in Roumania, 4 in Australia, 4 in Spain, 3 in Cuba, 3 in Lithuania, 2 in Arabia, 2 in South America, 2 in Hungary, 1 in the Argentine Republic, 1 in Persia, 1 in St. Helena, 1 in Bermuda, 1 in Africa, 1 in Holland, 1 in Switzerland, 3 at sea, 30 unknown, 1,439 in Massachusetts, and the remaining 938 in other parts of the United States.

This institution is becoming more and more a hospital rather than an almshouse, as is evidenced by the fact that fully four-fifths of all the admissions are now hospital cases. This condition is due, to some extent, to the policy of the Board in sending all State cases that can be removed without endangering their health from the local hospitals to the State Hospital, where, at 50 per cent. less expense to the Commonwealth, they should receive as good nursing and medical care as in the local hospitals. In order to insure such treatment, however, the necessity for a better diet and better service for them is apparent. While there has been during the year a steady improvement in the quantity and quality of the food, it should undoubtedly be still further improved. In order that more satisfactory service may be rendered, there is need of an increase in the number of nurses and employees. The Trustees and Superintendent already realize these things, and are asking for an increased appropriation for the purpose.

The matter of the expenditure of the large amount required for the maintenance of the Hospital — over $340,000 last year and $400,000 for the current year — rests almost entirely in the hands of the Superintendent, with such assistance as he may receive from his clerk; but, however competent the Superintendent may be, he cannot satisfactorily perform this duty in addition to all the other exacting demands upon his time and attention. In the opinion of the Board, it would be in the interest of economy and efficiency for the Trustees to create the office of purchasing agent or steward, who should devote his whole time to this work.

Many criticisms of a varied nature regarding the management of the institution have been called to the attention of the Board during the past year, and rigid investigations have shown some of them to be well founded. In a number of cases excuses may be found upon the ground that, while the equipment of the Hospital provides for a normal population of from 1,200 to 1,400 per week, the Superintendent has been forced to care for from 2,000 to 2,200 per week. Some conditions, however, cannot be attributed wholly to this cause. The Board is glad to state that the Trustees and Superintendent are giving to the question of the better administration of the Hospital their most serious attention, that many of the defects alluded to have already been remedied, and that assurance has been given that others will be attended to without delay.

The Board believes that the institution should not receive any larger increase of inmates; and that, as stated in its previous Annual Reports, provision should be made for the early withdrawal of the insane population. It should be clearly understood that, while the Board approves estimates for special appropriations for additions and enlargements, it is not for the purpose of caring for an increased number of inmates, but rather to provide comfortably for those who are already there.

Amounts have been expended under the recent legislative appropriations as follows: buildings for cases of infectious disease, $1,744.34; hospital ward, $13,949.98; consumptives' ward, $18,916.99; children's ward, $20,325.67.

The Board approves the estimate of the Trustees, for the current year, of $400,000, viz., salaries, wages, and labor, $107,000; other expenses, $293,000.

The Board also approves the estimates of the Trustees for the following special appropriations: enlargement of chapel, $9,375; enlargement of laundry, $7,970; enlargement of men's consumptive hospital, $20,500; enlargement of women's consumptive hospital, $14,450; enlargement of nurses' home, $21,390; enlargement of filter beds, $2,000; heating, lighting, and furnishing children's hospital, $10,000; purchase of Bartlett place, $1,200.

The Board disapproves the following special estimates of the Trustees: two barracks for 100 beds each, $23,802; enlargement of administration building, $17,406.

The total running expenses for the year were $297,176.01, viz., salaries, wages, and labor, $75,000; other expenses, $222,176.01. Average net weekly cost per capita, $2.65. Valuation of land and buildings, $987,290.

The largest number of inmates of all classes, viz., prisoners, paupers, and insane, cared for during the year was 2,442; the smallest number, 1,953; and the average number, 2,156. The average number of prisoners was 1,230; of paupers, 334; and of insane, 592.

Of the 3,946 prisoners received, 2,448 had been previously committed, viz., 798 for the second time, 505 for the third, 323 for the fourth, 206 for the fifth, 160 for the sixth, 120 for the seventh, 108 for the eighth, 74 for the ninth, 37 for the tenth, 29 for the eleventh, 28 for the twelfth, 19 for the thirteenth, 13 for the fourteenth, 12 for the fifteenth, 8 for the sixteenth, 3 for the seventeenth, and 1 each for the eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth, twenty-first, and twenty-third times.

Of the 757 pauper admissions, 290 were transferred from the State Hospital, and 6 from the Prison Department of the State Farm; the remainder were mostly from towns of southeastern Massachusetts, viz., 151 from Fall River, 101 from New Bedford, 99 from Brockton, 38 from Taunton, 21 from Middleborough, 21 from Bridgewater, 8 from Wareham, and the remaining 22 from various other towns.

Of the 4,820 admissions, 1,900 were born in Massachusetts, 1,298 in Ireland, 390 in British Provinces, 252 in England, 87 in Scotland, 32 in Sweden, 18 in Cape Verde Islands, 22 in Germany, 37 in Italy, 29 in Poland, 29 in the Azores, 9 in Finland, 38 in Russia, 7 in France, 8 in Wales, and the remainder in other foreign countries and in various parts of the United States.

Enforced idleness from lack of employment, in consequence of the industrial depression of the past year, has resulted not only in increased pauperism but also in marked increase of crime. The State Farm has been taxed far beyond its normal capacity to provide properly for the commitments made there, especially during the latter part of the year. For the whole year, there were 1,139 more commitments than during the preceding year; the number remaining at the end of the year was 478 more; and the average number for the year 321 more. On several days during the autumn the number cared for was over 2,400, or from 300 to 400 more than for the corresponding period in 1907. It has been only by frequent transfers to other penal institutions, by special releases to relieve congestion, and by other exceptional methods, that the population has been kept from further increase.

The practice of working prisoners out of doors is common to most prisons, but in the State Farm this has been carried to a very great extent, an average of 300 men of this class having been employed in the fields during the open season with no other restraint than an overseer or attendant.

A building formerly used as a barn has been moved to a location near the new pauper building, and its first story fitted up for a pauper dormitory with 100 beds, which have already been filled. The second story will be used for storage for the present, but if necessary can be fitted up so as to accommodate 100 more paupers. This will afford sleeping accommodations only, as the occupants will take their meals at the new pauper building. It will help to care for the overflow at the State Hospital, and in the opinion of the Board will render the construction of barracks at the latter institution unnecessary.

Amounts have been expended under recent legislative appropriations as follows: high stone wall, $2,305.21; pauper building, $513.79; barn and stable, $1,318.32; building for insane department, $2,753.65; building for female prisoners, $11,197.67; hot-water supply, $575; prison dining-room, $3,000; stable, $8,760.31; furnishing and lighting pauper building, $12,067.11; attendants' building, $5,255; furnishings for industrial building, $607.44; morgue, $1,819.39; painting, pumps and general repairs, $5,408.31; finishing and furnishing women's building, $4,937.64; duplicate pumping plant, $3,910.73.

The Board approves the estimate of the Trustees, for the current year, of $294,000, viz., salaries, wages and labor, $81,000; other expenses, $213,000.

The Board also approves the Trustees' estimates for the following special appropriations, viz., new prison building, $75,000; water tower, $7,500; cold storage and ice-making plant, $5,000; sewage beds, $6,000.

The total running expenses for the year were $96,894.34, viz., salaries, wages, and labor, $35,453.65; other expenses, $61,440.69. Average net weekly cost per capita, $4.87. Valuation of land and buildings, $287,719.

Of the 268 boys committed, 5 were fifteen years old, 126 fourteen years, 68 thirteen years, 40 twelve years, 15 eleven years, 9 ten years, 4 nine years, and 1 eight years. One hundred and thirty-one of them were committed as delinquent children, 52 for larceny, 34 for stubbornness, 30 for breaking and entering, 5 for assault, 2 for receiving stolen goods, 2 for throwing missile at railway car, 2 for vagrancy, 2 for violating rules of truant school, 2 for being idle and disorderly, 1 for taking team, 1 for willful injury to church property, 1 for unlawful appropriation, 1 for breaking gum slot-machine, 1 for habitual truancy, and 1 by transfer from the State Board of Charity.

Forty-seven were employed when arrested, 98 were attending school, and 123 were idle. One hundred and sixty-seven had been arrested before, and 71 had been committed to other institutions. In the cases of 74, other members of the family had been arrested. All but 13 had one or both parents living. One hundred and three had intemperate fathers, 5 had intemperate mothers, and 16 had both parents intemperate. Two hundred and twenty were born in the United States, 39 were foreign born, and the birthplaces of 9 were unknown. The average time spent in the institution was 20.28 months. Of the commitments, 68 were from Middlesex County, 62 from Suffolk County, 41 from Essex County, 34 from Bristol County, 22 from Worcester County, 13 from Hampden County, 7 from Norfolk County, 6 from Plymouth County, 4 from Barnstable County, 4 from Berkshire County, 3 from Franklin County, 2 from Hampshire County, 1 from Dukes County, and 1 from Nantucket County.

The policy of the School remains unchanged, but its execution is much hampered by the crowded condition that prevails, the numbers having increased during the year from 342 to 419. Conditions of industrial depression have made the situation more acute. Boys on probation have lost their places and have been obliged to return to the School; others have got into trouble through enforced idleness and have been sent back; and at the same time many young men employed in cities have returned to their homes to work on the farms, thus closing to some extent this avenue of relief to the School. The better business outlook for the current year may favorably affect these factors in the situation. It is also hoped and expected that the probation system under the newly created Commission will materially assist in reducing the number of commitments to the School.

It is the practice of the School to give each boy four hours of academic instruction daily, and two hours of elementary carpentry or metal work; and to supplement these by four hours of labor, either in or about the School buildings or about the farm. Besides this, about 40 boys are usually under instruction as musicians in the band maintained at the School, which serves the double purpose of interesting the boy and of giving him a means of increasing his income when he goes away from the School. The records show that an appreciable number of boys have availed themselves of this opportunity.

The School is not an industrial one in the accepted sense of the term, as very few boys go out from it prepared to take up any trade except in some very elementary way; although there are frequent exceptions in the cases of boys who have a natural aptitude for some trade, and are encouraged to practice greater thoroughness in the School than is possible with the average boy.

Notwithstanding the overcrowding of the School the health of the boys has been almost uniformly good. This result has been largely due to the extra vigilance observed by the Superintendent and his assistants, who have keenly realized the grave danger that would result from an epidemic of sickness while the School was so large.

Under the legislative appropriations of 1907 the School expended the sum of $1,576.84 for fire protection, and $1,981.06 on a subway. Under appropriations of 1908 the following amounts were expended: furnishing Elm cottage, $2,399.91; completing subway, $1,848.24; barn, $5,106.74.

The Board approves the estimate of the Trustees, for the current year, of $101,400, viz., salaries, wages and labor, $39,100; other expenses, $62,300.

The Board also approves the following special estimates: for a double cottage, $46,000; furnishings for same, $4,800; sewer, water, and heating connections for same, $3,648.50; additional subway and water connections, $2,084.20; fire protection, $1,700.

Of the 131 girls committed during the year, 42 were committed for stubbornness, 30 for delinquency, 16 for idle and disorderly conduct, 13 for larceny, 7 for fornication, 6 for being stubborn and disobedient, 5 for vagrancy, 4 as runaways, 3 as wayward children, 2 as common night-walkers, 1 for cruelty to animals, 1 for lewd and lascivious conduct, and 1 by transfer from the State Board of Charity. Of the 131, 1 was seventeen years of age, 52 were sixteen years, 39 fifteen years, 21 fourteen years, 9 thirteen years, 6 twelve years, and 3 eleven years. Thirty-seven were committed from Boston, 12 from Lowell, 8 from Holyoke, 6 from Cambridge, 5 from Lawrence, 5 from Waltham, 4 from Worcester, 4 from Lynn, 3 from Haverhill, 2 from Chelsea, 2 from Medford, 2 from Newton, 2 from Salem, 2 from Somerville, 2 from Taunton, 2 from Greenfield, 2 from Leominster, 2 from Plymouth, 2 from Revere, 2 from Westfield, 2 from Winchester, 1 each from 22 other cities and towns, and 1 from the State Board of Charity. Forty-two were treated as hospital patients, 12 of these being maternity cases, and 77 were treated in the out-patient department.

Girls are committed to the School between the ages of seven and seventeen. Before being taken in charge the majority of them have made a decided start in the wrong direction, but in many of these cases the fault has been largely with the home and the community. Efforts are made to secure as much of the previous history of each case as possible, so that when a girl enters the School she may be placed at once in the right family; for classification is made according to character. There are nine cottages, all varying somewhat in the class of girls occupying them. In charge of each cottage are a matron, a housekeeper, and a teacher; and courses of work are laid out under the direction of these several officers. For the first six months a girl spends most of her forenoons in the sewing-room, but there is little chance for monotony in this department, as other occupations, such as sloyd, gymnastics, and in summer time out-door work, are frequently introduced. From autumn to early summer there is school work for all the girls from 3 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and each girl attends during her stay in the School. There is a thorough course in housekeeping, covering about six months. Besides instruction in these many lines, there are parties, entertainments, and various expeditions, which brighten the lives and furnish healthful interests for the minds of these young people. Sunday forenoon all the girls go to church in the village; and Sunday afternoon there is vesper service at the chapel on the grounds. After a year and a half in the School, a girl is usually considered ready to be placed outside on probation, occasionally in her own home, but more often in a specially selected family, where her welfare will be safely guarded.

It is the work of the volunteer women visitors to supervise and help in various friendly ways the girls who are on probation. There is an occasional return to the School for discipline, sometimes for a needed rest, and quite frequently for a visit, which by most of the girls is considered a great privilege. The number of girls returned to the School for discipline is less than formerly, the weekly reports frequently showing a larger number of commitments than returns. Some girls are discharged, and many are married, before their twenty-first birthday is reached; but a large number continue in the care of the School during their entire minority.

A central class has recently been formed of girls taken from the various cottages who have had practically no education. This will not only provide for special attention to the tuition of these girls, but will also give the teachers an opportunity to do better work with the girls remaining in the schoolrooms of the cottages.

The new cottage was completed late in the Summer, and was opened for occupancy in November with a small family of girls selected from the other cottages on account of their good conduct. This house is to be conducted somewhat differently from the others, much more freedom being allowed, with the idea of having the inmates live as much like a family as possible. Although the crowded condition of the School has been somewhat relieved, the families in most of the cottages continue to be larger than desirable.

Amounts have been expended under special legislative appropriations as follows: for new dormitory, $22,623.83; furnishing new dormitory, $2,391.47; hot-water heaters, $1,850.05; enlarging chapel, $2,184.84; fire protection, $2,661.25; building and furnishing new office, $938.30; sewage, $247.28.

The Board approves the Trustees' estimate of $63,831.75 for the current year; viz., salaries and labor, $27,581.75; other expenses, $36,250.

The Board also approves the estimate of $34,000 for a new cottage, and of $2,500 for furnishing the same.

The total running expenses for the year were $184,881.90, viz., salaries, wages, and labor, $52,225.73; other expenses, $132,656.17. Average net weekly cost per capita, $10.23. Valuation of land and buildings, $490,812.

Applicants for admission to the institution are examined as follows: at the Sanatorium, on any day but Sunday; at the Boston office, in the out-patient department of the Massachusetts General Hospital, on Wednesdays and Saturdays from 1.30 to 3.30 P.M.; at Worcester City Hospital, by Dr. Albert C. Getchell, on Mondays and Thursdays from 9 to 10 A.M.; at Worcester Hahnemann Hospital, by Dr. J. P. Rand, on Thursdays from 4 to 5 P.M.; at the following places on Wednesdays and Saturdays at 2 P.M.: Springfield, by Dr. Everett A. Bates, 57 Chestnut Street; Pittsfield, by Dr. John F. A. Adams, 114 Wendell Street, and Dr. R. A. Woodruff, 73 North Street; Fall River, by Dr. A. S. McKnight, 355 North Main Street; Lowell, by Dr. Boyden H. Pillsbury, 58 Kirk Street; Northampton, by Dr. E. H. Copeland, 70 Elm Street, and Dr. J. G. Hanson, 55 Kensington Avenue; Greenfield, by Dr. Charles F. Canedy, 8 Osgood Street.

The whole number of patients examined for admission to the institution during the year ending November 30, 1907, was 2,485. Of these, 1,729 were examined at the Boston office, 310 at the institution, 122 at Worcester City Hospital, 88 at Fall River, 84 at Lowell, 69 at Springfield, 36 at Pittsfield, 34 at Northampton, 10 at Greenfield, and 3 at Worcester Hahnemann Hospital. Of the whole number examined, 1,962 were new applicants, of whom 596 were accepted, 558 not accepted, and 808 deferred. Of the deferred cases, 523 cases were re-examined, and 134 accepted, 157 not accepted, and 232 deferred. The total number of patients admitted was 810, classified as follows: incipient, 37.15 per cent.; moderately advanced, 50.40 per cent.; far advanced, 12.43 per cent. Far-advanced cases are not admitted as such, but classification is not made until after the patients have been some time under treatment, and it frequently happens that moderately advanced cases develop into the prohibitive class. Of the 230 incipient cases discharged, 33.4 per cent. were apparently cured, 46.52 per cent. were arrested, 17.39 per cent. improved, and 3.04 per cent. not improved. Of the 312 moderately advanced cases discharged, 8.01 per cent. were apparently cured, 37.5 per cent. were arrested, 43.91 per cent. improved, and 10.57 per cent. not improved. Of the 77 far-advanced cases discharged, 15.58 per cent. were arrested, 48.5 per cent. improved, and 36.36 per cent. not improved. Taking all classes together, 16.31 per cent. were apparently cured, 38.12 per cent. arrested, 34.57 per cent. improved, and 10.98 per cent. not improved. Of the 619 cases considered, 573 gained in weight, the average gain being between 12 and 13 pounds; and 46 lost in weight, the average loss being about 6 pounds. Of the patients admitted, 63.7 per cent. were under thirty years of age.

Of the admissions, over 55 per cent. were from Suffolk and Middlesex counties, the remainder being from Essex, Worcester, Bristol, Plymouth, Norfolk, and Berkshire counties.

Of the 347 patients remaining at the end of the fiscal year, 216 were paying the established rate of $4; 17 were supported by cities and towns, 16 by associated charities, and 1 by the Division of State Minor Wards of the State Board of Charity; 17, having previously paid the full rate, were kept on the free list; and 80 were paying for their care and treatment in work. The average number of employees was 157, an increase of 6 over last year.

A system of after-care work has been recently established, with the coöperation of the Boston Association for the Relief and Control of Tuberculosis. The secretary of this Association visits the Sanatorium weekly, interviews patients about to be discharged and endeavors to find suitable employment for them, and provides for the visitation of their homes whence, if conditions prove unfavorable, they are urged to move to more hygienic surroundings.

Notwithstanding the severe drought of the past spring and summer, the farm products exceeded the supply of the previous year.

Under appropriations made prior to 1908, the Trustees expended $3,450.62 on a new farmhouse, $661.14 on a piggery, $1,960.11 on a pavilion, $1,379.01 on piazzas, and $309.76 on grading. Under appropriations made by the Legislature of 1908 the following amounts were expended: $5,728.53 on a new cow barn, $680 on a metallic drying-room, $4,129.53 on painting, $1,993.58 on outside repairs, $1,297.25 on a hennery and hennery equipment, and $135.29 on filter beds.

The Board approves the estimate of the Trustees, for the current year, of $184,000, viz., for salaries, wages, and labor, $51,742.44; other expenses, $132,257.56.

The Board also approves the Trustees' estimates for the following special appropriations: nurses' home, $15,000; renewing stucco, $1,375; new piazzas, $2,000; enlarging hennery, $1,500; alterations in coal trestle, $1,200; relaying corridor floors, $1,000; purchase of cows, $1,400; elevator in infirmary, $1,400; improvement of grounds, $500; X-Ray outfit, $600.

Regarding the laws governing this institution, two amendments seem desirable.

First. — Section 1, chapter 222 of the Acts of 1907, provides that "In the admission of persons to the Massachusetts State Sanatorium preference shall be given to those applicants who are citizens of the commonwealth," and the Attorney-General has given the opinion that the word "citizens" refers only to such persons as have been naturalized. This has worked a great hardship, especially in the case of women. During the past year there have been a number of applications for the admission of women who have been in the country for more than twenty-five years; and, as it is unusual for a woman to become naturalized, such applications have been refused unless there were not naturalized citizens enough to fill all the vacancies at the institution. The Board therefore recommends that the law be repealed or amended.

Second. — In view of the legislation of 1907 (Acts of 1907, chapter 386), whereby tuberculosis is added to the list of diseases dangerous to the public health, it is recommended that section 7 of chapter 88 be amended by substituting for the words "overseers of the poor," in the eighth line, the words "board of health," thus making the board of inmates of the Sanatorium having legal settlements payable at the request of the board of health, instead of at the request of overseers of the poor.

The total running expenses for the year were $25,473.94, viz., salaries, wages, and labor, $11,307.86; other expenses, $14,166.08. The average net weekly cost per capita was $10.05. Valuation of land and buildings, $169,269.54.

The School was formally opened, under proclamation of the Governor, on December 1, 1907, and the first children were placed there January 14, 1908. During the year 178 applications were received, of which 104 were accepted, viz., 70 boys and 34 girls. The maximum number was 90, and the daily average, 48+. Of the 16 children discharged during the year, 2 were capable of self-support, 2 were much improved, 8 improved, and 4 not improved. The average age was nine and one-half years, the age limit for admission having been tentatively established as between five and fifteen years. Twenty-six per cent. of the children admitted had never attended school, and 35½ per cent. were unable to read and write. Those who had gone to school attended with great irregularity. The fact of the great excess of boys over girls does not indicate that cripples exist in this ratio in the sexes, but rather that parents are more reluctant to allow their girls to leave home for treatment.

More than half the children of the School are so affected as to require the most nourishing diet and the benefits to be derived from out-door air and sunshine, so that it is inadvisable to keep many of them in-doors for school purposes for more than brief daily periods. The educational problem is made all the more difficult because of the want of previous school training on the part of the older children, who, on most subjects, need the same kind of instruction as the youngest. The undesirability of associating children of such diversity of ages and habits in the same class-rooms is apparent.

The most hopeful class is composed of those who are not permanently crippled and who it is expected may be restored to normal physical condition by treatment, the duration of which will differ in each case according to the needs of the individual. It is the intention to train such of this class as are deformed in pursuits best suited to their condition. The permanently crippled will receive the same general treatment, but the problem of vocational training will have greater attention, as it will be harder to find occupations that will furnish even partial support. Already, in many instances, remarkable progress has been made in industrial training. Boys who could not use any tools when they came have learned in six months to make really creditable articles. The out-of-door life has been of great benefit to the pupils. The weight of the children has almost invariably increased; colds are very rare, and with the exception of three cases of whooping-cough and diphtheria, there have been no contagious or infectious diseases.

Of the admissions, 61 were State patients, 28 city or town patients, and 15 private patients.

The act establishing the School provided for a capacity of at least 300 beds, but at present the buildings are equipped for 120 pupils only. At the rate applications have been coming in, it will be necessary to add other dormitories, and this can be done within the limits of the appropriation. The experience of the year has demonstrated also the need of an infirmary, for which plans are being prepared.

Many of the problems presented in an institution of this kind are new, and it will require actual experience, and much time, patience, and research, to work them out satisfactorily.

The Trustees expended, during the year, the sum of $61,920.71 for buildings and equipments.

The Board approves the estimate of the Trustees for $40,000 for the current year, viz., for salaries, wages, and labor, $18,000; other expenses, $22,000.

The Industrial School for Boys, Shirley.

Chapter 639 of the Acts of 1908 (quoted on page 34) is an act providing for the establishment of the Industrial School for Boys. Under the provisions of the act the Governor appointed the following Trustees: David F. Slade, Fall River; Miss Golde Bamber, Brookline; Matthew Luce, Cohasset; Miss Maud M. Rockwell, Roxbury; John J. Sheehan, Peabody; John A. Horgan, M.D., Roxbury; Charles M. Davenport, Boston. The Trustees have elected Mr. Slade President and Mr. Davenport Secretary. The School, when established, will be under the supervision of the State Board of Charity. The Trustees furnish, under date of February 1, 1909, the following report of progress: —

Our Board of Trustees, after visiting ten different properties in different parts of the State, and investigating thoroughly their availability and the availability of some which we did not personally visit, purchased the Shirley Shaker settlement, so called, located in the south end of Shirley and the north end of Lancaster. With an adjoining piece purchased from Alvin Lawton, this tract totals an area of 889$\frac{9}{20}$ acres. The site commands the country for miles around, and promises much for the development of an attractive and effective institution. The property is in a solid block, and slopes gently to the eastward, from an elevation of about 400 feet, to the Nashua River, which forms the easterly boundary for about a mile. The sloping character of the land makes the disposition of the sewage easy. In addition to an independent water supply, which can be extensively developed at slight expense, the Shirley town water comes within a quarter of a mile. The electric lights also extend from Shirley to within a quarter of a mile of the property.

A large part of the area is splendid farming land, with large orchards. There are an estimated half million feet of lumber upon the property, and 3,000 or 4,000 cords of wood. The farm and farm buildings are adequate for caring for and housing 100 head of cattle and horses. Six of the buildings are of brick, and the balance of wood. All, however, have slated roofs, and are in a good state of preservation. Plans for remodeling three of the brick buildings and three of the wooden buildings into a chapel, a central cooking and laundry plant, an administration building with quarters for the Superintendent and the teachers, and three cottages for boys, are at this writing completed, ready for bids from contractors. The remodeling planned will make up-to-date buildings in every way. There are numerous smaller houses and outbuildings which are available for shops and storehouses. The buildings are about a mile south of the Shirley station of the Fitchburg division of the Boston & Maine Railroad, and are scattered along a broad road set with an avenue of trees, and are located about 350 feet above the sea level. The personal property and farming tools, including a large supply of hay and ensilage, 4 horses, 31 cows and some neat cattle, were taken over with the premises.

Taking possession of the property was delayed until January 1 on account of the delays of the title searcher, and for this reason and on account of the consequent setting in of winter the development of the buildings and of the property has been much retarded. It is expected, however, that accommodations for 100 boys will be ready in about two months after the contracts are let.

The Superintendent has not been selected as yet, but will be in the near future.

It is hoped by the Board of Trustees that the School may be allowed to start in a small way, and in that way establish a spirit of its own. Industries will be established as rapidly as the conditions will warrant. There will be at the outset the farming, gardening, carpentry, masonry, cooking, and other occupations connected with the needs of the School. Other simpler trades will be taught, and the number increased as the conditions will warrant.

It is the opinion of the Board that the Act establishing the School should be amended so as to provide for transfer to the school from the custody of the State Board of Charity. The Board also agrees with the Trustees that the School should have full opportunity to establish an atmosphere and character of its own by a gradual growth of boys who have not had institutional experience. It is therefore recommended that the Act be further amended by deferring for a period of at least two years transfers to the School from the Suffolk School for Boys, and commitments to the School by the courts, except with the consent of the Trustees.

The State Commission on Hospitals for Consumptives.

Chapter 474 of the Acts of 1907 provides for a Board of nine persons, to be appointed by the Governor and Council, one of them to be a representative of the State Board of Charity, another of the State Board of Health, and three to be members of the Board of Trustees of the Massachusetts State Sanatorium. The act charges the Trustees with the duty of selecting and purchasing sites, approving plans, making contracts, selecting Superintendents, and supervising the construction of three Sanatoriums for tuberculous patients, each with a capacity of at least 150 inmates. One of the Sanatoriums is to be in southeastern Massachusetts, another in northeastern Massachusetts, and the third in the Connecticut valley. On the completion and opening of the Sanatoriums the representatives of the Board of Charity and the Board of Health cease to act, and the administration is vested thenceforth in the remaining Trustees. The State Board of Charity is given general supervision of the Sanatoriums, and, when directed by the Governor, shall assume and exercise the powers of the Board of Trustees.

The members of the Board are as follows: Charles H. Adams, Melrose (representing the State Board of Charity); Charles H. Porter, Quincy (representing the State Board of Health); Albert C. Getchell, Worcester; Jeremiah Smith, Jr., Cambridge; Silvia B. Knowlton, Newton; Alvah Crocker, Fitchburg; William C. Godfrey, Springfield; Arthur T. Cabot, Boston; William D. McFee, Haverhill.

The sum of $300,000 was appropriated to carry out the provisions of the Act.

The Trustees report the purchase of 101 acres of land in North Reading for the purpose of the Northeastern Hospital. Plans for the buildings have been approved by the Governor and Council. The contract for construction has been awarded, and the buildings are expected to be completed by July 1, 1909. Dr. E. B. Emerson, late of the State Hospital at Tewksbury, has been appointed Superintendent. For the Southeastern Hospital the Commission has purchased 75 acres of land in Lakeville, for the sum of $4,125. Plans for the Hospital have been approved by the Governor and Council, and contracts for building it are soon to be awarded. Dr. Sumner Coolidge of Watertown, for several years with Dr. Gorgas, chief of the medical department of Panama, has been appointed Superintendent. For the site of the Connecticut Valley Hospital 128 acres of land in the town of Westfield have been secured, for the sum of $6,000. Dr. Henry D. Chadwick, lately Superintendent of the Vermont State Sanatorium, has been appointed Superintendent, and is preparing the plans.

Section 9 of the Act provides that the Trustees "may also establish out-patient departments, and may disseminate information as to the best methods of combating the disease." In accordance with these provisions the Commission has, during the past year, issued bulletins concerning the need of establishing dispensaries and clinics for the tuberculous, forming tuberculosis classes in Boston, and day camps for tuberculosis in factories and stores, and other related topics. In addition to this, their officers have coöperated with the Massachusetts Medical Society to form tuberculosis associations, clinics, etc., and have furnished information as to the best way of doing these things. The officers of the Board also contributed largely to the State exhibit at the International Congress on Tuberculosis, held at Washington last September, and in arousing public interest in the Congress.

Financial Supervision of State Institutions.

The Board recently established the position of Examining Visitor of Institutions, whose duty is to visit the institutions under the supervision of the Board, thoroughly acquaint himself with their financial methods, and study and report on their yearly and monthly expenditures in detail. His work has already thrown much light on the management of the institutions, and has been the means of accomplishing certain definite results in the way of more economical and satisfactory methods of administration. Following is a statement of the method and result of his work thus far.

The first object of the Examining Visitor is to obtain a knowledge of the different articles purchased by each institution, which is done by making a transcript of the monthly invoices filed with the State Auditor. For purposes of comparison, the articles are classified and reduced to their units, with statement of average, maximum, and minimum prices, as in the following form: —

Article

Institution	Quoted F. O. B. at Purchase Point						Remarks
	Total Units	Total Cost	Average Price		Maximum Price	Minimum Price
			Month	Year
State Hospital . . .
State Farm
Lyman School . . .
Industrial School . . .
State Sanatorium
Hospital School . . .

These forms or cards, being filed, furnish a complete record of the specified articles bought by the several institutions. Copies of the cards are sent to all the Superintendents, thus acquainting them with the price and quantity, and, to some extent, with the quality of food purchased by other institutions. This enables them to exercise greater care in their purchases. In most of the institutions this has already led to the buying of all food only after competitive bids; and in one case has resulted in the saving of about $1,000. Food, however, represents less than 30 per cent. of the total cost of maintenance, and it seems important that the system should be extended as soon as possible to all the other chief articles of consumption. It further appears that, for a full development of the work, purchases should be made, not merely after comparison with prices paid by other institutions, but after additional comparison with current market prices; and this can only be done effectually by obtaining quotations from a number of leading mercantile houses. The use of staple articles only is urged. In the State of New York, after careful assays and working tests, a food standard has been established, and all State charitable institutions are governed by it in their purchases, — food of the same quality being used by inmates and officers.

The Superintendents of the several institutions have recently been advised that all goods should be carefully examined as to weight, measure, and number, and this is now generally done. In two or three of the institutions coal and flour are not only weighed but assayed. All the institutions are now taking advantage of cash discounts, — the Auditor having arranged for an advance of money from the State Treasurer for this purpose.

The cost of repairs at some of the institutions, on account of lack of due foresight and seasonable provision against decay, is much greater than it should be. This is true also to some extent in regard to general construction. For lack of such foresight, and unwillingness or unreadiness to ask for sufficient legislative appropriations, inmates in some instances are still housed in buildings which should have been long ago replaced. It is evident that some change should be made in this matter, and a better system introduced. Institutions should make far-seeing plans for development, and work as fast as possible to carry them out.

The State institutions can be properly run only by placing the business management of each in the hands of a capable executive officer, selected on the ground of training and ability to administer its affairs on sound business methods. The decided success of the management of the State Farm, for example, is due to the fact that it has at its head a capable business executive.

The County Truant Schools.

The law provides that the County Truant Schools shall be visited by the State Board of Education and the State Board of Charity, and that each of these Boards shall report on them annually to the General Court.

Under recent legislation (Acts of 1906, chapter 148; Acts of 1907, chapter 194; Acts of 1908, chapter 103) the names of the several Schools were changed from Truant Schools to Training Schools, and it was provided that any Truant School hereafter established shall be called a Training School, and that all laws now or hereafter in force relative to truants and Truant Schools shall apply to Training Schools and to commitments thereto. Collectively the Schools are still known as County Truant Schools. The Schools are as follows: —

Essex County Training School, Lawrence.
Hampden County Training School, Springfield.
Middlesex County Training School, North Chelmsford.
Norfolk, Bristol, and Plymouth Union Training School, Walpole.
Suffolk County Training School (Boston Parental), Roxbury.
Worcester County Training School, Oakdale.

The total number committed to the Schools during the year ending November 30, 1908, was 310, in addition to 65 returned from probation; 30 having been committed as "absentees," 13 as "school offenders," 230 as "truants," 5 as "delinquent children," 12 as "neglected children," and 20 as "habitual truants." The number in all the Schools November 30, 1908, was 662. The average number during the year was 114. The average age of those committed was eleven years and eleven months; the youngest being seven years, and the oldest fifteen years and eleven months. The average net weekly cost per capita was $2.86. The total number reported by four Schools as being previously before the court was 73, viz., 46 for truancy, 3 for absenteeism, 24 for larceny.

With the exception of the Suffolk County Training School, the Schools have been full, and in some cases overcrowded. The variety of policies mentioned in the Board's last report still controls the different Schools, without appreciable modification.

At the Suffolk County School an appropriation for the purpose of constructing an assembly hall and gymnasium has been made, but nothing further has been done in the matter. This School instructs in academic studies, but has no equipment for industrial training, and not land enough to provide farm work for the pupils. Outside of the schoolrooms, the boys are engaged largely in grading, road building, and the usual work about the house.

At the Norfolk, Bristol, and Plymouth Counties School there is little change from year to year. Not much can be done for the boys except to train them decently and to give them school instruction, no provision being made for industrial or manual training.

The Hampden County School is practically of the same type as that at Walpole, no arrangement being made for manual training, and the land not being sufficiently large to give much work to the boys.

The Worcester County School affords a wider range of employment to the pupils through its farming resources, which, though limited in area, are industriously cultivated. In connection with their garden work the boys are given a course in agriculture, and are taught some bookkeeping.

The Essex County School has a more modern equipment than those previously named, and the Superintendent pays special attention to farming and the raising of cattle and poultry, and is constantly devising ways of occupying and interesting the boys outside of School and playtime. The School maintains a very good band, membership in which is one of the rewards of good conduct. The addition of a manual training course is, however, greatly to be desired.

The Middlesex County School has the advantage of a good manual training equipment, and the cottages and grounds are well arranged from the point of view of management and discipline. In addition to manual training and school instruction there is abundant occupation for the boys on the large farm, 20 acres of which are cultivated. This School also has an excellent band.

While the law provides that children committed to these Schools must be discharged on reaching the age of sixteen years, there is a wide difference of opinion in the several counties as to the length of time they should be held. At Lawrence it is the practice to continue the boys in the School until they have reached the age limit, and on completion of the regular grammar course to give them a course of high school studies. In most of the other Schools it is customary to keep the pupils for much shorter periods, and to return them to normal family life when the authorities are convinced that they have profited by their school experience to such a degree as to make their return advisable. As the Schools are all managed by Boards of County Commissioners, whose duties are many and varied, it is not strange that these different methods should be pursued. If these Boards would confer together on problems of truancy and truant school management, better results would surely follow. Truant Schools should be something more than homes where unwilling children receive a compulsory education.

Here follow statistics of the several Schools.

Essex County Training School, Lawrence.

Established 1891.

W. Grant Fancher, Superintendent.

On December 1, 1907, there were 120 boys in the School. During the year ending November 30, 1908, 50 boys were committed, viz., 4 absentees, 3 school offenders, 43 truants; 6 were returned from probation; and 31 were discharged; leaving 145 in the School November 30, 1908. The average number in the School during the year was 135. The average age of the boys committed was twelve years and three months; the youngest being seven years, and the oldest fifteen years and eleven months. No record was kept of the boys who had been previously before the court. The average net weekly cost per capita was $3.04+.

The School consists of three buildings, two of brick and one of wood, containing Superintendent's quarters, three schoolrooms, three dormitories, and other rooms. There are 35 acres of land, of which 28 are cultivated. The total number of employees is 24, viz., Superintendent, 3 teachers, and 20 other employees.

Hampden County Training School, Springfield.

Established 1880.

Erwin G. Ward, Superintendent.

On December 1, 1907, there were 38 boys in the School. During the year ending November 30, 1908, 14 were committed, viz., 2 absentees and 12 truants; and 22 were paroled or discharged; leaving 22 in the School November 30, 1908. The average number in the School during the year was 36+. The City and Town Paupers.

The law provides that the State Board of Charity may visit and inspect all places where city or town paupers are supported in families, and requires the Board to visit, at least once a year, not only all children who are maintained by the Commonwealth, but all minor children who are supported at the expense of any city or town. Children illegally retained in city or town almshouses — i.e., pauper children over two years of age, or, if the mothers are inmates, over five years of age, and not defective in body or mind, who have been retained in an almshouse for more than two months — must be removed therefrom and placed at board at the expense of the city or town concerned. (Revised Laws, chapter 81, sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 43; Acts of 1905, chapters 285, 303.)

Adult Poor provided for in Families.

Of the 193 adult poor persons reported by the local authorities as fully supported in families on January 1, 1908, 18 had died and 8 had been removed before visits could be made. The remaining 167 — 65 men and 102 women — were all visited and reported on by the Board's agents. They were supported by 81 cities and towns, as follows: Abington, 2; Amesbury, 2; Amherst, 1; Avon, 3; Berlin, 1; Bernardston, 1; Blandford, 2; Bolton, 3; Charlemont, 1; Chester, 1; Chelsea, 8; Clinton, 1; Colrain, 1; Cummington, 1; Danvers, 5; Dover, 1; Dracut, 2; Dudley, 1; Everett, 5; Franklin, 1; Gill, 2; Gosnold, 1; Great Barrington, 5; Hamilton, 1; Heath, 1; Hubbardston, 2; Hull, 1; Hyde Park, 11; Lakeville, 2; Leominster, 1; Leverett, 1; Leyden, 1; Lowell, 2; Mansfield, 1; Marion, 3; Marlborough, 2; Marshfield, 1; Melrose, 1; Mendon, 3; Merrimac, 2; Methuen, 1; Millis, 1; Milton, 1; Montague, 1; Mount Washington, 1; Nahant, 1; Needham, 2; Newbury, 1; New Marlborough, 4; New Salem, 2; Newton, 4; Northborough, 2; Norwood, 1; Oakham, 2; Orange, 4; Orleans, 1; Pelham, 1; Petersham, 4; Plympton, 1; Princeton, 1; Raynham, 1; Revere, 3; Rowley, 1; Salisbury, 1; Scituate, 3; Sheffield, 3; Shirley, 4; Southborough, 1; Stoughton, 1; Stow, 1; Swampscott, 1; Templeton, 1; Topsfield, 3; Wareham, 1; Warwick, 1; Wellesley, 1; West Springfield, 3; Whitman, 5; Williamstown, 6; Winthrop, 2; Worthington, 1.

Their ages were as follows: 4 between twenty-one and thirty; 8 between thirty and forty; 12 between forty and fifty; 19 between fifty and sixty; 34 between sixty and seventy; 51 between seventy and eighty; 35 between eighty and ninety; 2 between ninety and one hundred; and 2 unknown. For their support there was paid in 6 cases less than $2 per week; in 68 cases from $2 to $3 per week; in 53 cases from $3 to $4 per week; and in the remaining 40 cases — mostly of old or feeble persons — the rate varied from $4 to $10, according to the amount of care required. Of the whole number about half were reported to be in good or fairly good physical condition, and all but 20 in good mental condition; all were apparently receiving good care, with very few exceptions, to which the attention of the Overseers of the Poor was called, with satisfactory results. There were 57 able to do light work, either in the house or at the barn. There were 14 supported in their own homes. In 127 cases, according to the reports, the Overseers of the Poor complied with the law requiring them to visit the paupers at least once in every six months; in 8 cases they made one visit a year; in 26 cases no visits were made; and in the remaining 6 cases the reports were uncertain.

Dependent Minor Children provided for in Families and Asylums.

Of the 1,142 children reported by the local authorities as fully supported outside of almshouses on January 1, 1908, 12 were unknown, 8 had died, and 162 had been removed before visits could be made. The remaining 960 — 523 boys and 437 girls — were supported by 92 cities and towns, as follows: Abington, 2; Adams, 1; Andover, 2; Ashburnham, 1; Athol, 7; Barnstable, 2; Barre, 1; Becket, 2; Beverly, 3; Boston, 556; Bourne, 2; Brookline, 2; Cambridge, 13; Chester, 3; Chicopee, 3; Clinton, 9; Cohasset, 1; Dalton, 2; Danvers, 5; Dartmouth, 8; Dedham, 3; Deerfield, 5; Dover, 1; Easthampton, 2; Everett, 2; Framingham, 5; Freetown, 1; Gardner, 1; Gloucester, 5; Great Barrington, 6; Greenfield, 2; Groveland, 1; Hanover, 1; Hanson, 3; Haverhill, 7; Hawley, 1; Hingham, 4; Holyoke, 4; Lancaster, 2; Lawrence, 38; Lenox, 3; Lowell, 30; Lynn, 12; Malden, 1; Manchester, 2; Mansfield, 2; Marblehead, 2; Marion, 1; Medford, 1; Melrose, 4; Merrimac, 1; Montague, 30; Natick, 2; New Bedford, 3; Newton, 2; Northampton, 1; North Andover, 1; Norwood, 12; Oak Bluffs, 3; Orleans, 2; Palmer, 1; Peabody, 8; Pepperell, 5; Petersham, 1; Pittsfield, 1; Quincy, 2; Raynham, 13; Rehoboth, 4; Rockland, 3; Rowley, 2; Russell, 2; Salem, 9; Saugus, 1; Savoy, 1; Scituate, 14; Sharon, 1; Sheffield, 3; Somerville, 2; Southbridge, 1; Stoughton, 1; Taunton, 3; Topsfield, 5; Tyngsborough, 1; Wakefield, 2; Walpole, 9; Westport, 1; West Springfield, 9; Whately, 2; Whitman, 8; Winthrop, 2; Woburn, 4; Worcester, 5.

Of the whole number, 317 were cared for and treated in public and private hospitals and asylums. There were 664 who attended school, and 406 who did more or less work. Of the whole number, 894 were in fairly good physical condition and 911 in fairly good mental condition. The price of board varied from less than $1 per week to $7. All these children appeared to be well cared for, except in a very few instances, to which the attention of the Overseers of the Poor was duly called.

Dependent Minor Children in Almshouses.

Visits were made in the cases of 185 children — 108 boys and 77 girls — reported to be cared for by the following cities and towns in their almshouses: Amesbury, 1; Ashburnham, 1; Beverly, 1; Boston, 22; Braintree, 5; Brockton, 1; Cambridge, 9; Fall River, 17; Haverhill, 2; Holyoke, 11; Lawrence, 24; Lowell, 26; Marlborough, 1; Monson, 1; New Bedford, 3; Newburyport, 2; North Adams, 1; North Andover, 2; North Attleborough, 2; Peabody, 1; Salem, 15; Springfield, 8; Taunton, 4; Upton, 2; Waltham, 7; Watertown, 1; Weymouth, 1; Winchendon, 3; Woburn, 3; Worcester, 8. Of these children, 68 had been removed from the almshouse and 10 had died before the time of visitation. Of the remainder, 38 were so defective in body or mind as to render their retention in the almshouse desirable, and 21 were removed after notification by the Board to the Overseers of the Poor that they were detained contrary to law. There were 10 who attended school, and 4 who did more or less work.

The Penalty incurred by Certain Cities and Towns for Failure to make their Pauper Returns during the Month of April, 1908.

Sections 39–42 of chapter 81 of the Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 115 of the Acts of 1905, are as follows: —

Section 39. Overseers of the poor shall keep full and accurate records, in a form prescribed by the state board of charity, of the paupers fully supported, the persons relieved and partially supported, and the travellers and vagrants lodged at the expense of their cities and towns and of the amount paid for such support and relief.

Section 40. They shall annually in April, for the year ending on the last day of March, return to the state board of charity the number of such persons supported and relieved, the cost thereof, and a record of those fully supported.

Section 41. In the year nineteen hundred and five and in every tenth year thereafter the return of the overseers of the poor shall contain true and correct answers to such additional inquiries as the state board of charity may deem it advisable to make.

Section 42. If the overseers of the poor of a city or town refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of the three preceding sections, such city or town shall forfeit one dollar for each day's neglect, and the amount of such forfeiture shall be deducted from any amount to which said city or town may be entitled in reimbursement for relief of state paupers as provided in sections fifteen and sixteen of chapter eighty-five; and if no such reimbursement shall be due to said city or town, the forfeiture shall be deducted from any money which may be due to it from the Commonwealth.

Under these laws the Board reported to the Treasurer of the Commonwealth the names of the cities and towns that failed to make their pauper returns during the month of April, 1908, together with the amount of penalty incurred in each instance, as follows: Amesbury, $5; Ashland, $8; Avon, $10; Bernardston, $12; Brookline, $11; Carlisle, $3; Clinton, $17; Dover, $26; Dudley, $5; Gardner, $31; Lee, $1; Leominster, $1; Mattapoisett, $3; Nahant, $10; New Ashford, $19; Norfolk, $13; Northfield, $24; Princeton, $3; Rowe, $7; Southborough, $10; Wakefield, $19; total, $238.

Administration.

In addition to the duties of supervision and publicity above given, — duties which are large and capable of further development, for the protection of the poor and the economical expenditure of public money, — the Board is charged with certain duties entirely administrative. These are chiefly grouped under two heads, viz., State adult poor and State minor wards.

The administrative duties with reference to the State adult poor comprise the discharge of sane inmates of the State Hospital and the State Farm, the execution of laws relative to the release on probation of prisoners at the State Farm, the investigation of questions of settlement of poor supported, relieved, and buried by cities and towns, and of sane inmates of State institutions, the directing of aid of unsettled poor by cities and towns, the transfer of sane paupers from one institution to another, the sending of paupers to the places within and outside of the State where they belong, the carrying out of the provisions of the contract with the United States regarding alien immigrants falling into distress and becoming a public charge, and the management of the leper hospital at Penikese Island.

The administrative duties with regard to State minor wards comprise the maintenance and care of delinquent, neglected, and dependent children coming into the custody of the Board through court commitment and otherwise, and the execution of the laws concerning abandoned infants and infant boarding-houses.

The State Out-door Poor.

The Statutes provide that before any bills for the support or relief of the unsettled poor by cities and towns can be considered by the State, which pays for their care, notices of the cases shall be sent to the Board. In accordance with these laws, 14,092 such notices were received during the official year, from 236 cities and towns, on account of 33,837 persons; a net increase of 3,050, or about 27½ per cent., over the previous year. Of these notices, 8,812, concerning 10,828 individuals, were on account of persons too sick to be removed (including 2,202 notices, concerning 2,668 individuals, on account of persons sick with dangerous diseases); 1,143 notices, concerning 5,377 persons, were for wife-settlement cases; and 4,137 notices, concerning 17,632 persons, were for temporary aid and transportation. Of the total number of notices above stated, 2,077, concerning 7,464 individuals, were in cases on account of which a previous notice had been received during the year.

Cases of Sick State Poor.

The number of sick State poor notices received was 8,812. These 8,812 notices were sent by 179 cities and towns, concerning 10,828 persons, of whom 8,873 were represented as being too ill to be removed. This number shows a net increase of the number of notices over the previous year of about 6 per cent., and, as compared with the official year 1905–06, an increase of about 18½ per cent. The largest number of notices received in any one month was 964, in January; and the smallest, 627, in August. The number of persons shows a net increase of about 10 per cent., as compared with the previous year; and of persons actually sick and requiring medical attendance, a net increase of about 6 per cent. Of these 8,812 notices, 4,715, or about 53 per cent. of the whole number, were from the city of Boston, viz.: 4,508 from the Boston City Hospital, 147 from the Institutions Department, 60 cases from the Boston Lying-in Hospital, and 5 on account of persons aided at their homes or other hospitals.

The number of visits made by the officers of the Board, in the investigation of these 8,812 notices, was 19,236. As a result of these investigations the Overseers of the Poor were directed to discontinue aid in 1,758 cases, — in 1,746 on account of the recovery of the patient sufficiently to permit of his removal, and in 12 for other reasons manifest to the Board. In 271 cases all aid was refused because at the time of the application the patient could have been removed without danger.

There were 6,490 cases investigated by the visitors; and in 416 cases settlements were found, concerning 639 persons.

By order of the Board 7 persons were sent to the State Hospital.

Among those reported as sick there were 717 deaths.

Cases of Dangerous Diseases.

Of the 8,812 notices previously stated as received relative to the sick State poor, 2,202 were on account of "smallpox or other diseases dangerous to the public health," and provided for 2,668 persons, of whom 2,250 were patients. These figures show a net increase in the number of notices, as compared with the previous year, of 60 per cent., and as compared with the year 1905–06, an increase of about 131 per cent. These notices were from 84 cities and towns; 773 being for cases of diphtheria, 573 for scarlet fever, 383 for typhoid fever, 237 for measles, 194 for tuberculosis, 12 for cerebro-spinal meningitis, 8 for smallpox, 8 for whooping-cough, 5 for erysipelas, 3 for croup, 3 for rabies, 2 for chicken-pox, and 1 for tetanus. In 152 cases settlements were found, concerning 231 persons.

Section 52 of chapter 75 of the Revised Laws provides that: "If the board of health of a city or town has had notice of a case of smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever or of any other disease dangerous to the public health therein, it shall within twenty-four hours thereafter give notice thereof to the state board of health stating the name and the location of the patient so afflicted, and the secretary thereof shall forthwith transmit a copy of such notice to the state board of charity."

Chapter 213 of the Acts of 1902, as amended by chapter 386 of the Acts of 1907, provides that bills for expenses incurred under the provisions of the law first cited, in cases of persons having no legal settlements within the Commonwealth, shall be paid upon the approval of the State Board of Charity.

Now it frequently happens that the only information the State Board of Charity has of a case chargeable to the Commonwealth under these laws is the receipt of a claim for reimbursement presented some months after the case has been closed, making verification of the case difficult and often impossible. The Board therefore recommends that the law be so amended as to require notices to be sent by local boards of health in this class of cases, not only to the State Board of Health, as now provided by law, but to the State Board of Charity, similar in effect to the notices required to be sent under the provisions of sections 14 and 15 of chapter 85 of the Revised Laws.

It is to be further noted, under this head, that some legislation relative to the removal of tuberculous cases from local hospitals may be desirable.

Cases of Wife-settlement.

The number of notices received was 1,143, from 102 cities and towns, concerning 5,377 persons, of whom 427 were sick. These figures show a net increase in the number of notices, as compared with the previous year, of about 68 per cent.; and as compared with the year 1905–06, an increase of about 81 per cent. Of these 1,143 notices, 341, or about 29 per cent., were from the city of Boston. There were 371 new cases investigated by the agents of the Board, and 14 settlements were found. Of the 5,377 persons previously mentioned, 4,234 were acknowledged as settled, and as 14 settlements were found among the remaining 1,143, the whole number aided by the State was 1,129, of whom 283 were sick. The number of visits made in these cases was 1,304. As a result of the visits, the local authorities were advised to discontinue aid in 8 cases.

The policy of the Commonwealth in aiding adult dependents is, and has been for the last fifty years or so, in the main an almshouse policy, — continuous aid being granted to unsettled State paupers only at a State institution. A marked exception to this, however, is the local care and medical treatment of persons suffering with contagious disease, or so ill that their health, and perhaps their lives, would be endangered by removal to the State Hospital at Tewksbury. (Revised Laws, chapter 85, section 14.) An examination of this class of dependents shows that, while the number so aided has not increased beyond the rate of the general increase of population, a larger and larger proportion of them, as the years go by, are cared for in the local hospitals instead of at their own homes. While it was not so long ago that the general hospitals in the Commonwealth were few in number, now every considerable centre of population is provided with a suitable general hospital, in which the State's patients can receive proper care and treatment for both medical and surgical needs. This is an advantage to the Commonwealth in every way, as its dependents are far better cared for, the expense of their support is greatly diminished, and the time of necessary disability is much shorter than if the patient had been provided for at his own home or in some private family. Of the 8,812 sick persons for whom notices were received during 1908, 7,810 were patients in local hospitals.

The administration of these hospital cases is simple, effective, and satisfactory. The case is brought to the attention of the State Board of Charity by a written notice from the local Overseers of the Poor, and this is followed, on the part of the Board, by competent medical examination as to the physical condition of the sick person and the duration of the Commonwealth's liability under the statute; careful expert investigation of the legal status of the patient as to pauper settlement, and also as to his financial ability and that of kindred liable by law for his support; and finally, if the case proves to be a proper State charge, reimbursement by the Commonwealth, at a fixed rate per week, to the city or town in which the patient was ill.

Cases of Temporary Aid.

The number of notices received was 4,137, concerning 17,632 persons, from 185 cities and towns. The largest number of notices received in any one month was 912, in January; and the smallest number was 166, in September. The whole number shows a net increase, as compared with the preceding year, of about 103 per cent., and as compared with the year 1905–06, an increase of about 100 per cent. Of these notices, 331, or about 8 per cent., were received from the city of Boston. The number of visits made under all these notices was 5,796. There were 1,839 cases investigated by the agents of the Board; and 313 settlements were found, concerning 1,238 persons. As a result of visitation, aid was discontinued in 427 cases, and in 31 cases aid was refused. There were 61 persons removed to the State Hospital; 17 persons refused to be so removed, and further aid was declined.

During the year, bills for the transportation of 349 persons, under the temporary aid law, amounting to $2,773.10, were allowed. Of these 349 persons, 5 were sent to Asia Minor; 12 to the Azores; 39 to European countries, viz.: England, 2; Finland, 4; France, 6; Germany, 3; Ireland, 6; Italy, 9; Russia, 5; Sweden, 4; 121 to Canada and other British Provinces; 172 to other States, viz.: California, 3; Connecticut, 17; Georgia, 1; Illinois, 2; Maine, 40; Maryland, 4; Missouri, 3; New Hampshire, 17; New Jersey, 8; New York, 54; Pennsylvania, 4; Rhode Island, 1; Virginia, 1; Vermont, 17.

Bills amounting to $289.11 were allowed for transportation of 73 shipwrecked seamen from Chatham, Duxbury, Nantucket and Provincetown to Boston.

Temporary aid, as administered by the State Board, continues accurately to reflect the existing condition of the labor market, and to be a reliable index of the ease or difficulty with which employment can be secured, or the impossibility, for a time, of obtaining it. The following record for the last twenty-one years shows the annual number of applications for temporary aid, and the number of persons represented by the families of the applicants: —

Years	Notices	Persons
1888	2,025	8,517
1889	2,176	9,122
1890	2,198	8,931

1907	2,034	7,832
1908	4,137	17,632

[1] Fourteen months.

Two facts are here noticeable: —

First. — While, during this considerable period of years, there has been much fluctuation in the number of applications, there has been no absolute increase. The numbers for the years 1888 and 1907, for example, when the financial conditions were practically the same, are very nearly identical, while the population of the Commonwealth has increased in the mean time over 30 per cent.

Second. — The number of applications accurately indicates the ease or difficulty of finding work. When the number has been unusually large, — 1894, 1898, 1908, — times have been unusually hard, it has been difficult to find work, and many persons have been obliged to remain idle. To-day, times have already improved, the number of notices is diminishing, and it may be confidently predicted that the year 1909 will show a decided decrease of applications.

A.R. 1908

Penikese Hospital.

Frank H. Parker, M.D., Superintendent.

This Hospital, for lepers only, is under the direct control of the State Board of Charity. The nature of the institution and the peculiar relation which its inmates sustain to the community at large — prisoners in effect, but not criminals — call for the exercise of more than ordinary wisdom in its management. Its isolation is also to be noted, and the practical impossibility at certain seasons of the year of making connections with the main land. It is a pleasure, then, to report that, in the face of all obstacles and difficulties, with improvements recently made and others in progress, its condition is now reasonably satisfactory under the present excellent management.

Inadequate means for the proper shelter of the stock and the housing of property that would be damaged from exposure to the weather have been somewhat remedied by an addition to the sheep-shed, containing quarters for sheep, a compartment for sick animals, and a loft for the storage of hay. One of the old cellars, a relic of the Agassiz School of Biology, has been pointed and squared up, and a one-story building erected thereon, to contain accommodations for extra workmen, storage rooms for supplies and wood, and a carpenter's shop. The cow barn has been disinfected and remodeled, with concrete feeding troughs, dropping floor, etc.; and it is hoped that this change will result in eradicating the greater part of the disease that has prevailed from time to time among the stock since the occupancy of the island.

For the better cultivation of the land, and to prevent the depredations of the stock among the crops, three fields have been laid off and fenced. The stock comprises three cows, three head of young stock, two heifers, one bull, one horse, eighty-five sheep, three hogs, and twelve pigs. Two cows have been killed during the year; one seriously affected with island fever and the other suffering from tuberculosis.

Poultry forms a most important part of the food supply. There are at present between 300 and 400 fowl, but for their proper handling better quarters than are now afforded must be supplied. Notwithstanding the long drought of last summer, seriously interfering with the crops, the improved water supply, which in former years has been a source of great anxiety, has with care and economy proved sufficient for all needs.

The auxiliary catboat, "The Lincoln," for which an appropriation of $2,000 was authorized by the last Legislature, has rendered good service. A railway is being planned, which will serve not only to give the boat better care, but will permit its use throughout the year when proper sea conditions prevail. The new wharf, built under an appropriation of $5,000, made by the last Legislature, the construction of which was under the supervision of the Harbor and Land Commissioners, has been completed, and will not only prove a great convenience, but will result in much saving of labor.

The Patients.

There are now eight patients at the hospital. Bertha Osis, a former patient, who was found to have been suffering from the disease when she came to this country, in 1905, was deported to her home in Russia, under the United States law, May 10, 1908, by the steamship company that brought her.

The general health of the remaining patients is fairly good, and while they show, in varying degrees, manifestations of the disease, they are in reasonably good physical condition.

Frank Pena — the first leper called to the attention of the Board — and Joseph Needham are the most sorely afflicted at this time. The former has a tuberculous condition of the conjunctiva and iris of the right eye, and Needham is suffering from keratitis of his eyes, which has necessitated his confinement in a subdued light for some weeks.

In September, through the courtesy of Dr. J. A. Tenney, specialist, of Boston, the eyes of such patients as needed attention were carefully looked after. The prospect of permanent relief, however, when the disease has spread to the eyes, is not encouraging.

Early in the spring the two women patients were removed to the cottage especially built for them; and plans have been made, and material is now on the island, for the erection of an addition for the accommodation of an attendant, and work upon it will be begun as soon as the weather permits.

The Superintendent has under consideration a plan of supplying the patients' food to them at regular hours, instead of allowing them to prepare their own food, — a process which has proved not only needlessly expensive, but unsatisfactory from the point of view of their physical condition.

The Board recommends that the Harbor and Land Commissioners be requested to make a survey and furnish estimates of the cost of dredging a channel from the end of the recently constructed wharf, sufficiently wide and deep to allow vessels drawing twelve feet to enter and depart at all times.

If Penikese could be made a post-office station, with the mail coming direct to the island from New Bedford, it would greatly facilitate the work of the hospital, and remove one of the most serious difficulties the management has to contend with.

Children in the Care and Custody of the Board.

At the close of the last official year, November 30, 1907, there were 3,533 children in the care and custody of the Board, viz., 298 juvenile offenders, 1,942 neglected children, and 1,293 dependent children.

During the year ending November 30, 1908, 684 children were received, viz., 76 juvenile offenders, 355 neglected children, and 253 dependent children; and 439 were discharged, viz., 62 juvenile offenders, 231 neglected children, and 145 dependent children; leaving, November 30, 1908, 3,779 children, viz., 312 juvenile offenders, 2,066 neglected children, and 1,401 dependent children. Of the 3,779 children, 1,210 were in families without board, 2,316 in families with board, and 253 in the State Hospital and other institutions, not penal, for special care and treatment.[1]

The children classified as dependents are those who are received upon application of parents, guardians, or friends, or who are committed as children having no known settlement in the Commonwealth by the Overseers of the Poor of the towns and cities in which they are found. Neglected children are those committed by the courts because of lack of care on the part of their parents or guardians. Juvenile offenders are those who are committed by the courts because of their offences. These children are all treated in the same way after they are received, with the exception that in some cases it is necessary to place them in what are known as the temporary homes maintained by the Board, for the purpose of giving them physical care and such training as is needed to make them acceptable for placing out in approved private homes.

[1] In addition to these 3,779 children, the Board had under supervision and visitation November 30, 1908, 417 inmates of the Lyman School for Boys, 247 inmates of the State Industrial School for Girls, 457 boys and 297 girls in the custody of the Trustees of the Lyman and Industrial Schools, outside of the Schools, 136 children in the State Hospital, who were either young infants with their mothers or else under hospital treatment, 91 inmates of the Massachusetts State Sanatorium, 87 inmates of the Massachusetts Hospital School, 662 inmates of the County Truant Schools, and about 1,100 children supported at the expense of cities and towns; making, as nearly as can be ascertained, a total of 7,273 children in the care and custody and under the supervision of the Board.

Boarding places for infants are selected after careful investigation by the medical officers of the Board. Compensation is made for such children at the rate of $2.75 per week, and material for clothing is supplied by the Board. When the infant reaches the age of two years, compensation is fixed at $2 per week and clothing material. Upon attaining the age of three years children are boarded at the rate of $1.50 per week, with a clothing allowance of fifty cents per week. This rate of compensation continues, as a rule, until the child has reached the age of twelve, when homes are secured without payment of board. There are, however, instances when children of twelve years are unable to return services in lieu of board, because of physical or mental defects, and in these cases the State continues to pay board. All the children are kept at school until the age of fourteen years, and then places are found for them where they may receive wages, differing in amount according to the ability of the children to make themselves useful.

Infants are visited by the medical visitors with great frequency, and close attention is paid to their care, clothing, and diet. After attaining the age of three years the children are visited at least once every three months by the visitors of older children, who note carefully the condition of the child and of the home, and where necessary arrange for relocation. During this period such medical attendance as is required is provided at the expense of the State Board, and children suffering from defective hearing and eyesight, or from throat troubles are given hospital treatment. The children placed on wages have careful oversight on the part of the visitors, and whatever money they earn above their requirement for clothing is deposited with the Clerk of the Board, who opens a savings bank account for each child; the entire amount on deposit being paid over to the child on his discharge from the custody of the Board. Boys are placed largely in country homes, where it is expected they will receive the necessary training to equip them for the ordinary affairs of life, but because of the necessity of finding places at domestic service for the girls, the latter are generally placed in and around the more thickly settled communities.

The discharge of children from the custody of the Board, unless an earlier application on the part of relatives or friends is favorably acted on, usually occurs in the case of boys at the age of 18, if they have given evidence of ability to care for themselves. Girls, however, are generally retained until they reach their majority. Homes are found for such children as have no parents, or whose parents have given them up for adoption, where after a sufficient trial they are legally adopted, and thus pass from the custody of the Board.

Infants.

The whole number of infants, or children under three years of age, in the charge of the Board, at the beginning of the fiscal year, December 1, 1907, was 469; the number received during the year was 356; making the total number supported during the year, 825. There remained at the close of the year, November 30, 1908, 508.

Of the 825 infants supported, 46 were legally adopted; 156 were transferred to the subdivision for older children, having reached the age of three years; 41 were discharged to parents or guardians; 1 was discharged to place of settlement, and 73 died. Of the remaining 508 infants, 19 were on trial for adoption without expense to the State.

Of the 356 infants received, 107 were committed by Overseers of the Poor and 5 by the Trustees of the State Hospital, under the provisions of section 20 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws for the commitment of unsettled indigent or neglected children to the custody of the State Board of Charity. This number is made up of deserted infants, foundlings, —

21 of whom were received during the year, — and unsettled indigent infants. The physical condition of these children when received varies slightly from year to year. Those left at board and deserted are almost invariably enfeebled by insufficient nourishment and lack of suitable care, and many of the women who have taken them to board, and have had them left on their hands, excuse themselves for the condition in which the infants are found by saying that since they receive no pay for their board, they are unable to provide for them properly. The foundlings, as a rule, unless suffering from some hereditary disease, are in good condition when received. Those found upon examination to have tuberculosis or syphilis are sent at once to the State Hospital, because it is unsafe to provide for them in families where there are other children.

Of the number received, 112 were committed by the courts, under section 37 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 334 of the Acts of 1903, providing for the commitment of children under sixteen years of age, growing up without education or without salutary control, by reason of orphanage or by the direct crime of drunkenness or other vice of their parents, or in circumstances exposing them to lead idle and dissolute lives, or dependent upon public charity. While many of the children committed under this law are filthy and neglected when received, some are fairly well nourished and quickly respond to kind treatment and suitable care, but others have been so enfeebled by long neglect that months of medical care, special diet, and nursing in selected homes are necessary to restore them to health.

The 3 infants taken from unsuitable boarding places were removed under section 26 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws, which provides for the removal, by an officer of the Board, of children under the age of seven years not under the personal care of parents or guardians, and not receiving proper care. While none were taken under this section the previous year, the fact that 3 were removed during the last fiscal year shows that constant and rigid inspection of homes where infants are boarded is necessary to prevent the revival of the pernicious practice of baby farming.

There were 8 infants taken from their mothers under section 13 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws, providing for the surrender of illegitimate children under two years of age by their mothers for the purpose of adoption. The more rigid enforcement of the policy of the Board against separating mother and child may account, in great part, for the small number of this class of children, as compared with the previous year. Infants received under this law are generally but a few weeks old, and are legally eligible for adoption without delay, so that if there is no physical disability they are offered to desirable applicants after the prospective homes have been approved.

There were 121 infants received under the provisions of section 36 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws, authorizing the Board to provide for the maintenance of dependent children under the age of sixteen years, on the application of parents, guardians, friends, or Overseers of the Poor.

The whole number of applications received during the year for infants to take on trial for adoption was 91; of these, 5 were withdrawn, 68 were investigated, and 18 had investigation pending at the end of the year. Of the number investigated, 63 were approved and 5 not approved. In 56 cases the applicants were supplied with children. The number of applications received during the year for infants to board was 463; of these, 121 homes were visited and approved, and 36 were visited and not approved. These homes are visited as promptly as practicable, and, if approved, the names of the applicants are placed on a waiting list. The number of approved homes is always in excess of the needs, and preference is given to the most desirable.

The medical visitors made 4,289 visits to infants, and 528 visits of investigation and inspection of homes of applicants for licenses to maintain boarding houses for infants.

The death rate for the year was 8.84 per cent., 2 per cent. less than last year and 4 per cent. less than in 1906, the lowest since 1904, and the lowest but one since 1880, when the present system of caring for these infants was adopted.

The Nursery, at Roxbury, is a temporary boarding house for infants, where most of the infants are sent when first received, and the matron is licensed to keep 8 infants. All the infants received are brought to the State House, where they are thoroughly examined by one of the medical visitors before being sent to the Nursery or other boarding place. The Nursery is connected by telephone with the State House, and also with the home of one of the medical visitors, so that in case of sudden illness or other emergency medical attendance and advice can be secured without delay. Of the 356 infants received, 328 were admitted to the Nursery, and only 2 died there.

The Work of the Investigating Visitors.

Near the beginning of the last official year the Board established the policy of making special investigations in the case of all applications for the care of children made under section 36 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws, which provides that "The state board of charity may, in its discretion, upon the written application of the parent or guardian, or, if there is no parent or guardian, of a friend, of a child under the age of sixteen years who is dependent upon public charity, or upon written application of the overseers of the poor of the city or town in which such child is found, provide for his maintenance."

At first, this work had to do almost entirely with applications for maintenance of infants, or children under three years of age, but it very soon seemed advisable to consider the cases of all children coming within the scope of the law. During the year, applications for the care of 919 such children were investigated. Of these, 217 were accepted as suitable subjects for State care, 607 were otherwise provided for, and 95 cases were pending at the end of the year.

A careful study of the conditions and circumstances surrounding each child is always made, the preservation of family unity and responsibility being kept in mind, but in every case with due regard to the best interests of the child. In about two-thirds of the applications the investigation develops responsibility of relatives or the community, or engages the interests of private benevolence, thus putting the burden where it more properly belongs. In the cities, where charity is more highly organized, it is usually a comparatively simple matter to find some society that will meet the needs of a given case, but in the small towns and outlying districts it frequently requires much ingenuity and patience to develop resources. In considering the future of every child the investigator endeavors to reach the origin of the distress that caused the application, and, frequently in coöperation with other agencies, to minimize the chance of its recurrence, and to reconstruct the family as a whole. One of the greatest problems is that of the illegitimate children, whose mothers are unwilling, and, because of incompetence or ill health, unable to support them. In these cases it is the aim of the visitor to strengthen the weakened tie between the mother and child, and to encourage the mother to pay for the child's support in part if not entirely.

Of 96 applications for the care of illegitimate children, 28 cases only have been accepted by the Board, while 68 have been provided for elsewhere.

Besides the children for whom we have been able to arrange care by friends, relatives, and churches, others have been cared for by the Overseers of the Poor of 22 different towns and by 45 agencies. Payments are also being made by mothers and fathers in amounts varying from 50 cents a week to the full cost of board. Agreements with such parents are not made in an arbitrary way, but are always based on a knowledge of income, and are adapted to each particular case. Their purpose is chiefly to correct and foster parental responsibility, but has the incidental result of saving some taxes to the community.

Supervision of Probation.

Section 14 of chapter 413 of the Acts of 1906 provides that "The State Board of Charity shall have authority to supervise the probation work for wayward and delinquent children, and to make such inquiries as it considers necessary in regard to the same, and in its annual report may make such recommendations as it considers advisable for the improvement of methods of dealing with such children."

This supervision is effected through the visitors of the Board, largely by their observation of such probation work as is incidental to their attendance at juvenile cases in the various courts. The main conclusion resulting from the supervision thus far is that probation work for children is very indifferently performed in parts of the Commonwealth. In some courts in the larger centres there is an attempt on the part of the probation officers to investigate all cases in anticipation of the hearing, and to make reports and give suggestions in accordance with the results of these investigations. Instances where the investigation includes visits to the home and school are very few, most of it being limited to inquiries made in the court room of the parents, the children, and others interested. In the outlying districts, almost without exception, there is little or no preliminary investigation, and the probation work means simply a perfunctory formality. The work is often placed in the hands of the clerk or other officer of the court, who, either through press of business, or through lack of appreciation of the importance of the work, does very little more than keep the records of the cases. Probation also in many instances means only that the child placed under the system is expected to report at fixed intervals to the probation officer, who questions him more or less closely, and does not pretend to make any outside investigation.

It seems advisable to call attention to section 7 of the same Statute, which provides that "every case of a wayward child or a delinquent child shall be investigated by the probation officer, who shall make a report regarding the character of such child, his school record, his home, his surroundings and the previous complaints against him, if any. He shall be present in court at the trial of the case, and furnish the court with such information and assistance as shall be required. At the end of the probation period of a child that has been placed on probation, the officer in whose care it has been shall make a report as to its conduct during such period."

The following tables, regarding the several classes of the Board's children, are self-explanatory.

Parole from the State Farm.

The parole system at the State Farm is under the direct control of the State Board of Charity. The law on the subject is as follows: —

Revised Laws, Chapter 85.

Section 37. In imposing a sentence of imprisonment at the state farm, the court or trial justice shall not fix or limit the duration thereof. Whoever is sentenced to the state farm for drunkenness may be there held in custody for not more than one year, and whoever is so sentenced for any other offence may be there held in custody for not more than two years, except as provided in section thirty-three.

Section 38. If it appears to the state board of charity that a person serving a sentence at the state farm has reformed, it may, upon such conditions as it may determine, issue to him a permit to be at liberty for the residue of the period for which he might be held, and may revoke it at any time previous to its expiration.

Section 39.[1] Upon the revocation of such permit, said board may issue an order for the return of the holder thereof to the state farm, which may be served by any officer authorized to serve criminal process. Upon his return to the state farm, the holder of such permit shall be detained for the residue of the term for which he might be held under the provisions of section thirty-seven and the time between his release on permit and said return shall not be considered as any part of said term; or, if subsequent to such return it shall be deemed advisable by said board, the board may issue to such person further permits to be at liberty under the provisions of section thirty-eight, and subject to revocation as therein provided.

Under this law the Board has established the following rules and regulations: —

Rule 1. Prisoners who may be held in custody for a term not exceeding one year shall be entitled to release on parole at the expiration of three months from the date of their commitment, on the recommendation of the Superintendent of the State Farm. If returned for violation of the conditions of the release, they shall remain at the State Farm four months after such return; and if returned a second time, they shall remain until the expiration of the term of the maximum sentence, except as provided by Rule 3.

Rule 2. Prisoners who may be held in custody for a term not exceeding two years shall be entitled to release on parole at the expiration of nine months from the date of their commitment, on the recommendation of the Superintendent of the State Farm. If returned for violation of the conditions of the release, they shall remain at the State Farm until the expiration of the term of the maximum sentence, except as provided by Rule 3.

Rule 3. Prisoners returned to the State Farm to serve until the expiration of the term of the maximum sentence shall be entitled to such deduction of time for good conduct, not exceeding thirty days, as the Superintendent of the State Farm may determine; but in case of arrest after such release, the State Board shall not revoke the permit to be at liberty, but shall let the case take its course in the courts.

[1] As amended by Acts of 1904, chapter 216.

Rule 4. When a prisoner during the term of his parole is returned on a new sentence for a similar offence, he shall be held as if he were returned for breach of his parole on his original sentence, and without regard to subsequent conviction.

The Superintendent of the State Farm shall report to the State Board of Charity one week before the expiration of each month, and as much oftener as he may deem necessary, the names of all prisoners entitled to release under the foregoing rules.

The release on parole provided for in these rules shall be upon condition that the holder of the permit to be at liberty does not thereafter return to his former habits of dissipation or vagrancy, and upon such other conditions as the State Board of Charity may impose; and whenever it shall appear to the Board that the conditions have been violated by the holder of the permit at any time during the maximum term for which he might have been held in custody, it may revoke the permit and issue a warrant for the return of the prisoner to the State Farm.

It is gratifying to state that of the 3,661 prisoners released on parole during the year, — a large majority of whom had been sentenced for drunkenness, — only 645, or 17+ per cent., were returned for violation of the conditions of their release; whereas during the previous year, out of 3,346 discharges, 689, or about 20 per cent., were returned. It is the purpose of the Board to extend this system of friendly visitation until it practically includes the placing of every prisoner released on parole, resident in Massachusetts, in the care of a parole visitor.

Immigration.

On July 1, 1908, at the instance of the national authorities, a new contract was made between the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the United States in the matter of alien immigrants, to replace the agreement made March 28, 1894. The principal changes effected by the new agreement are the establishment of a uniform rate of $5 a week, or 75 cents a day for periods under a week, for reimbursement to the Commonwealth for the care and maintenance of alien immigrants falling into distress within one year after their landing; and of $10 a week, or $1.50 a day, when such aliens are suffering with contagious diseases. The contract is as follows: —

This agreement entered into this first day of July, 1908, between the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, by Leontine Lincoln, Chairman of the State Board of Charity, acting under authority of the vote of the Massachusetts State Board of Charity, a certified copy of which is attached hereto, party of the first part, and the United States of America, by Geo. B. Billings, Commissioner of Immigration at the Port of Boston, Massachusetts, acting under authority of the Act of Congress entitled "An Act to Regulate the Immigration of Aliens into the United States," approved February 20, 1907, and letter No. 51841–32 of the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, dated March 27th, 1908, party of the second part,

WITNESSETH

First: The party of the first part, for the consideration hereinafter named, agrees to and with the party of the second part as follows:

1. To provide, in each instance in which an alien's right to relief is established, at the hospitals or other suitable institutions now or hereafter controlled by the party of the first part, or at such alien's residence or place of abode within said Commonwealth in case of danger to life or public health if removed therefrom, suitable accommodation and care for such aliens as become public charges by reason of accident or bodily ailment or disease, or physical or mental inability to earn a living; in cases of aliens who become such public charges from causes arising subsequent to the alien's arrival in the United States, such accommodation and care shall be provided until deportation or the expiration of one year after such alien's entry into the United States, and in the cases of aliens who become such public charges from causes existing prior to the alien's arrival in the United States, and whose deportation is ordered by the Department on a finding that they have become public charges from prior existing causes, such accommodation and care shall be provided from the date the party of the second part is notified by the party of the first part that such an alien has become a public charge until deportation is effected by the party of the second part, all within the period of three years after the admission of such alien into the United States.

2. To transport to and receive into said hospitals or institutions the above classes of aliens, and there, or at their places of residence or abode in case of danger to life or public health if removed therefrom, for the compensation stated in paragraph "4" hereof, render to them such medical or surgical and other treatment and care as the nature of each case may properly require.

3. To notify the party of the second part, through the Commissioner of Immigration at the Port of Boston, Massachusetts, when each alien within the classes hereinbefore described begins to receive such aid; such notice to contain the following information regarding each such alien: Name in full, age, country of nativity, race, date of entry into the United States, name of institution or address at which aid is being rendered, date of beginning of such aid, and, in the cases of aliens arriving at the ports of the United States, the name of the ship and port of entry, or, in the cases of aliens arriving at ports of territory adjacent to the United States and later entering the United States, the name of the ship and port and date of arrival at such port, and the place and method of entry into the United States if ascertainable. No notice furnished under this paragraph shall relate to more than one alien, and each notice shall show the name and address of the alien's relatives or friends, if any, and be accompanied by an unequivocal certificate, signed by the principal medical officer of the institution or place where such aid is rendered, or other medical official who has examined the alien, containing such information as may be called for by the form or forms of medical certificate furnished or required by the party of the second part, supplemented by a brief of the alien's history as obtained by the party of the first part.

4. To render to the party of the second part certified statements and vouchers in duplicate, on such forms as the party of the second part may provide or require, for all the necessary expenses incurred by the party of the first part in carrying out the provisions hereof in the cases of all such aliens whose period of care shall terminate during any previous month, at the following charges: In cases of non-contagious diseases the charge shall be not more than seventy-five cents per day for each alien so received and cared for, but if such an alien shall receive such care for seven or more consecutive days, the charge shall be at a rate of not more than five dollars per week; in cases of contagious diseases the charge shall be not more than one dollar and fifty cents per day for each alien so received and cared for, but if such an alien shall receive such care for seven or more consecutive days, the charge shall be at a rate of not more than ten dollars per week; the charge in no case to commence before the date of mailing by the party of the first part of the notification, medical certificate and supplementary brief mentioned in paragraph "3" hereof.

5. To render to the party of the second part such additional certificates (signed by the principal medical officer, as described in paragraph "3" hereof) regarding aliens reported to the party of the second part in accordance with this contract, as may be required by the party of the second part.

6. To allow an officer or officers of the United States Immigration Service and an officer or officers of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, or other physician legally authorized by the party of the second part to make an examination of aliens, to have access to any alien reported under this contract.

Second: The party of the second part, upon condition that the party of the first part faithfully perform each and every provision hereof, and upon the establishment to the satisfaction of the party of the second part of an alien's right to relief hereunder, hereby agrees to pay the party of the first part not more than the amounts specified in paragraph "4" hereof for the period of time such alien is so accommodated and cared for from the date of mailing of the notification, medical certificate and brief as provided by paragraph "3" hereof until deportation or the expiration of one year after such alien's entry into the United States, in cases of public charges from causes arising subsequent to arrival, or until deportation is effected by the party of the second part on a finding by the Department that they have become public charges from prior existing causes within three years of landing in the United States, in the cases of public charges from causes existing prior to arrival in the United States. All payments hereunder are to be made in accordance with the method of rendering statements and vouchers described in paragraph "4" hereof.

Third: The parties hereto further mutually agree as follows:

A. That this agreement shall in no wise be construed as affecting the right of the party of the second part, at its own discretion, to remove and deport any alien who may receive accommodation and care under this contract and thereby terminate the charge by the party of the first part hereunder, although the one year or three year period, as described in paragraph "1" and division "Second" hereof, shall not have expired.

B. That for the purposes of this contract the following shall be considered "contagious diseases:" Actinomycosis, asiatic cholera, cerebro-spinal meningitis, diphtheria, glanders, leprosy, malignant pustule, measles, scarlet fever, smallpox, tetanus, trichinosis, all forms of tuberculosis, typhoid fever, typhus fever, varicella, whooping cough, yellow fever. All other diseases shall be considered "non-contagious."

C. That neither party to this contract shall be bound to execute its provisions or incur any liability hereunder in excess of the amount properly applicable thereto under the legislative act herein cited or acts subsequent thereto.

D. That this contract shall become effective July 1, 1908, or on the expiration of a similar contract made the twenty-eighth day of March, 1894, and shall terminate June 30, 1909, subject to renewal in its present terms, and may be revoked during the life of this contract by either party hereto giving to the other party sixty days notice in writing of its intention to terminate the same.

and when sixty days shall have expired, after such notice has been given, this contract shall cease and terminate.

E. That no member of or delegate to Congress shall be admitted to any share or benefit or part of this contract or agreement.

In witness whereof the parties hereto have executed this agreement in triplicate at Boston, Massachusetts, the day and date first above written.

MEETINGS OF THE BOARD.

During the official year ending November 30, 1908, the Board held nineteen meetings, viz., twelve regular monthly meetings, and seven adjourned and special meetings. The attendance of members at these meetings was as follows: Mr. Lincoln, sixteen meetings; Mr. Pratt, eleven; Miss Curtis, eighteen; Mr. Adams, seventeen; Mr. Tilley, nineteen; Mr. Johnson, fourteen; Mr. Brackett, eighteen; Mr. Ratshesky, eight; Mr. Downey, twelve. There were, in addition, frequent meetings of the Standing Committees. The record of the results of these meetings is embodied in the foregoing Report.

At a special meeting of the Board, held February 2, 1909, at the call of the Chairman, announcement was made of the death, on the 31st ult., of Charles F. Donnelly, for nearly thirty years a member of the Board, and for some time its Chairman. It was unanimously voted that the following minute be entered on the Board's records: —

It is with sincere regret that we, members of the State Board of Charity here present, learn of the death of our most highly valued friend and former fellow member. Identified with the charitable and reformatory interests of the Commonwealth, as well as with deserving and successful private charities, during a large part of his active life, he gave to these interests his time, thought, and labor ungrudgingly. He gave, too, not in the way of formal service, but in all sincerity, and out of a hearty concern in the public and private welfare. His death is a great loss, not only to his many personal friends, but to the poor whom he so constantly befriended, and to the community at large.

To the widow of our late associate, and to his surviving relatives, we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

Their chief sources of income were: subscriptions and donations, $1,731,961.78; bequests, $2,237,359; income from investments, $1,478,840.02; paying and partly paying beneficiaries, $1,980,409.32; sales and entertainments, $152,172.57; industries, $500,126.37.

Their chief items of expense were: salaries and wages, $1,979,919.57; provisions and supplies, $2,113,841.96; repairs and improvements, $593,672.02. Their total running expenses were $6,473,636.75.

The whole number of beneficiaries reported was 596,890, besides 7,478 families and 150 institutions. Of the individual beneficiaries, 209,250 were aided free, the remaining 287,640 either paying or partly paying for the services rendered.

The total number of employees, to whom the amount of $1,979,919.57 was paid in the form of salaries and wages, was 6,421.

Hospitals, homes, and institutions of a like nature providing beds for their beneficiaries, reported a total of 13,445 beds.

Regarding the corporation reports in general, certain points are to be especially noted.

In the first place, the publication of the reports does not mean that the charity work done by the corporations is known to and approved by the State Board of Charity. The need and value of this work are beyond the power of the Board to determine, under existing laws.

It is next to be observed that the State Board of Charity is not responsible for the correctness of the reports. Of course they are accepted only on condition of self-consistency, accuracy of figuring, and absence of evident error; and on account of defects in these respects they are not infrequently returned for correction; but otherwise the statements are received as they are sent by the secretary, or treasurer, or other responsible agent of the corporation. The Board has no means of verifying them, either by personal examination of the books or by visitation of the institutions. To this last statement, however, there is a single exception. The Legislature of 1906 passed an act establishing the Henry C. Nevins Home at Methuen, for the purpose of carrying out certain charitable trusts created by the will of Julie F. H. Nevins, of New York, for the benefit of aged and incurable residents of Essex County; but making no provision for its supervision or visitation. The Legislature of 1908, however, passed a supplementary act so amending the original law as not only to require the corporation to make the usual annual report required of all charitable corporations under the provisions of section 14 of chapter 84 of the Revised Laws, but to provide that the report "shall be signed and sworn to by the financial officers and a majority of the directors or persons having the power of directors in such corporation," and that "the State Board of Charity shall at all times have access to the books and records of said corporation," and furthermore, that "the attorney general shall enforce compliance with the provisions of this act, and shall, when necessary, proceed for that purpose against said corporation or its officers by bill in equity or other suitable process."

The Board reaffirms its repeated suggestion that legislation should be secured, providing, first, for some method of verification of the most important items of the annual reports of these corporations; and secondly, for visitation by some central authority, if not of all the institutions, at least of the homes for the care of sick and aged poor and orphan and needy children. The Board believes in such legislation as a measure of protection for the recipients of aid, and also in view of the large amount of personal property owned by the corporations which is relieved from the burden of taxation, the great number of persons aided by them, and the frequent inquiries made by individuals personally interested in the inmates and by others desiring to make gifts or bequests.

REPORT

STATE BOARD OF CHARITY

PART III

THE CITY AND TOWN ALMSHOUSES

AND

THE PAUPER ABSTRACT

THE CITY AND TOWN ALMSHOUSES.

Laws relating to Almshouses.

For the information of Overseers of the Poor, masters of almshouses, and others concerned, certain laws relating to almshouses are here summarized.

The State Board of Charity is required to visit all city and town almshouses, and to include in its Annual Report a statement of their condition and management, with its suggestions and recommendations relative thereto. (Revised Laws, chap. 84, sect. 5.)

The master of every almshouse must keep a register, in a form prescribed by the State Board of Charity, of the names of the persons received or committed, the cities or towns to which they belong, and the dates of their reception and discharge. (Revised Laws, chap. 30, sect. 17.)

Every inmate of an almshouse able to work shall be kept diligently employed in labor. If he is idle and does not perform such reasonable task as is assigned, or if he is stubborn and disorderly, he shall be punished according to the orders and regulations established by the directors. (Revised Laws, chap. 30, sect. 21. See also opinion of Attorney-General, given to State Board of Charity November 21, 1904.)

The only children who can be lawfully supported in a city or town almshouse for a period of more than two months are: (1) those who are so defective in body or mind as to make their retention in an almshouse desirable; (2) those who are under two years of age; (3) those who are under five years of age, with mothers who are almshouse inmates and suitable persons to aid in taking care of them. In cases of failure of Overseers of the Poor to remove children illegally in almshouses, the State Board of Charity is required to remove them and provide for them otherwise, at the expense of the city or town concerned. (Revised Laws, chap. 81, sect. 6; Acts of 1905, chap. 303.)

Provision is made that tramps and vagrants, as well as criminals, shall be confined in separate and distinct quarters in all almshouses, and shall not be permitted to associate or communicate with the pauper inmates. (Acts of 1905, chap. 348.) Almshouse officials knowingly violating this law are liable to be punished by a fine of not more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (Acts of 1904, chap. 274.)

The State Board of Charity is authorized to advise with and assist Overseers of the Poor in the preparation of plans for almshouse buildings. (Acts of 1905, chap. 162.)

Inspection of Almshouses.

The record of the last eight years has been a record of steady progress. The method of inspection established under the provisions of the legislative act of 1900 has been followed ever since, with such modification and enlargement as the experience of each succeeding year has suggested, and now ensures detailed reports concerning all the essential features of almshouse management. During this period the Board's initiative in the matter of improvements and rectification of unsatisfactory conditions has been followed to a marked degree by the local authorities. A vital factor in the work has been the regular visitation of the Board's inspector. This officer has gradually made himself acquainted with almshouse conditions and requirements throughout the Commonwealth, and as the personal medium of communication between the Board and the Overseers of the Poor, acting with energy and discretion, he has gradually won the confidence of these officials, and effectually supplemented the recommendations of the Board. Full credit must also be given to the volunteer almshouse visitors, who have so willingly devoted themselves to a study of the individual needs of the inmates, brightening their lives by supplying them with books, flowers, and various articles conducive to their comfort, and, moreover, by quiet observation disclosing occasional cases of carelessness and neglect on the part of the management. The work of these visitors becomes all the more satisfactory now that it is getting to be better understood and more highly appreciated by both Overseers and almshouse wardens. Visitors have been already appointed for about half of the almshouses, and it is the intention of the Board to appoint them ultimately for all.

During the year the inspector has visited every almshouse once, 18 almshouses twice, 4 three times, 6 four times, and 1 seven times. Besides holding various conferences with town committees and many personal interviews with town overseers, he has assisted in making several sets of plans. Visits have also been made, from time to time, by members of the Board. The volunteer visitors are expected to visit at least twice a year, but many of them go oftener, and a few once a month.

Almshouses closed.

The following almshouses have been recently closed, and their inmates provided for in private families or in other towns: Arlington, Berkley, Carver, Dracut, Dudley, Tyngsborough.

New Buildings and Improvements.

At Middleborough a new almshouse, of good outward appearance, has been built, at an expense of about $17,000; but the Board was not consulted about the plans, and the interior is in some respects far from satisfactory. At Boston (Long Island) a good deal has been done in the way of renovation, at an expense of nearly $20,000. At Charlton an addition has been built, at an expense of about $2,700. In a large number of instances repairs and improvements have been made of considerable importance, the following towns having each spent $300 and upwards for this purpose: Adams, Ashland, Athol, Attleborough, Boston (Long Island), Braintree, Brockton, Cambridge, Carlisle, Charlton, Chicopee, Cohasset, Dartmouth, Fall River, Falmouth, Fitchburg, Framingham, Haverhill, Holyoke, Lawrence, Lowell, Lynn, Mansfield, Marlborough, Medford, Milton, Nantucket, Natick, New Bedford, Newburyport, North Adams, North Andover, North Attleborough, Northbridge, Pittsfield, Plymouth, Salem, Sherborn, Spencer, Southbridge, Springfield, Sturbridge, Sutton, Taunton, Townsend, Wakefield, Ware, Watertown, Westport, Winchendon, Worcester.

Defective Conditions.

Record was made in last year's Report of the need, at Amherst, of better fire protection; at Belchertown, of better bathing facilities; at Charlton, of increased accommodations; at Dennis, of renovation of the building; at Monson, of a better heating system; and at Sutton, of general repairs. During the past year these defects have all been practically remedied. Report was also made of the following conditions: Easthampton, need of better water supply; Gloucester, need of a new building; Holyoke and Lawrence, need of better hospital accommodations; Marshfield, generally poor condition. In these cases, at last accounts, no improvement had been made. There are to be added also, as the result of the last year's inspection, the following unsatisfactory conditions: at Ashburnham, the need of interior repairs and some new furniture; at Mansfield, the need of repairs; at Wayland, the need of a better heating system; and at Wellesley and Woburn, the need of new buildings.

Management.

In 188 almshouses the management is in the hands of a warden and matron, and in 4 of a matron only. The combined salaries of these officials average about $580 per annum, in addition to their board and lodging; the total amount of these salaries being $109,874. About three-quarters of the towns employ a total of 572 assistants, who are generally paid by the town, but in a few instances are paid by the warden. In a number of cases the warden performs other services for the town, without extra compensation. The greatest length of service in any one place is that of Waltham, where the warden and matron have served twenty-seven years; in Wakefield there has been a like service of twenty-six years; in Concord, of twenty-five years; in Lexington and Somerset, of twenty-four years; in Lee and Pittsfield, of twenty-three years; in Haverhill, of twenty-one years; in Hingham, of eighteen years; and in Spencer, of fifteen years. Fifteen cities and towns are reported as employing a total of 112 nurses, as follows: Boston, (Long Island), 52; Brookline, 1; Cambridge, 1; Fall River, 10; Fitchburg, 2; Gloucester, 1; Haverhill, 8; Holyoke, 3; Lawrence, 5; Lowell, 5; New Bedford, 5; Salem, 4; Taunton, 1; Westfield, 2; Worcester, 12. It appears to the Board a matter of no little importance that, in every case of serious illness where hospital care is not available, the service of a nurse should be procured.

Construction.

Of the 192 almshouses, 162 have buildings wholly of wood, 22 of brick, 3 of stone, 4 of brick and wood, and 1 of stone and wood. In 130 almshouses one or more sitting-rooms are provided for the use of the inmates; 4 use corridors for sitting-rooms, and 18 use dining-rooms. There is in all a total of 208 sitting-rooms and 3,624 sleeping-rooms, in addition to 67 wards and 54 dormitories with 6,683 beds. In 130 almshouses there are fully equipped bath-rooms, 6 having shower-baths also; in 20 the bath-rooms are partly equipped, and 42 have no bath-rooms; there being in all a total of 400 fully equipped bath-rooms and 21 partly equipped. In 123 there are water-closets. In 8 the heating is by hot air, in 18 by hot water, in 107 by steam, in 48 by stoves, in 6 by hot air and stoves, in 2 by hot water and steam, in 2 by hot air and steam, and in 1 by hot air and hot water. Oil furnishes light for 133, electricity for 47, gas for 3, gas and electricity for 4, electricity and oil for 2, and oil and candles for 3. Fire-escapes appear to be provided in all cases where they are a matter of importance. In 153 almshouses there are fire extinguishers or other special methods of protection against fire, and in 39 there is no such provision. In the following 45 almshouses special hospital accommodations are provided for, either by setting apart one or more rooms, or, in a few instances, by separate buildings: Andover, Attleborough, Beverly, Boston (Charlestown), Boston (Long Island), Brockton, Brookline, Cambridge, Canton, Chicopee, Cohasset, Essex, Fall River, Framingham, Franklin, Greenfield, Haverhill, Holyoke, Lawrence, Lee, Lowell, Lynn, Malden, Medford, Middleborough, Newburyport, Newton, Northampton, Palmer, Peabody, Pepperell, Quincy, Rockland, Salem, Springfield, Stockbridge, Stoneham, Taunton, Upton, Waltham, Ware, Watertown, Westfield, Weymouth, Worcester.

Number of Inmates.

The whole number of inmates of all the almshouses at the time of visitation was 4,787, viz., 2,785 men, 1,872 women, and 130 children; the largest number in any one almshouse being 833, in Boston (Long Island), and the smallest, 1. Among the other almshouses with large populations may be mentioned Lowell, with 394; Fall River, with 280; Lawrence, with 205; Worcester, with 172; Holyoke, with 148; Cambridge, with 138; and New Bedford and Boston (Charlestown), with 115 each. The whole number of inmates of all the almshouses during the year was 10,542, or 2,100 more than the preceding year. The ages of the inmates of all the almshouses were as follows: fifty-seven under 2; thirty between 2 and 5; thirty-one between 5 and 15; thirteen between 15 and 21; one hundred and fifty-six between 21 and 30; three hundred and eighteen between 30 and 40; six hundred and twenty-six between 40 and 50; nine hundred and eighteen between 50 and 60; eleven hundred and forty-nine between 60 and 70; one thousand and seventy-two between 70 and 80; three hundred and seventy-nine between 80 and 90; thirty-seven between 90 and 100; one over 100; or, under a different grouping, one hundred and thirty-one were under 21 years of age; four hundred and seventy-four between 21 and 40; fifteen hundred and forty-four between 40 and 60; two thousand six hundred and thirty-eight 60 and over. In 59 of the almshouses there was a complete separation of the sexes; in 30 the sexes were separated at night only; in 33 they were separated except at meals; in 49 there was no separation; and in 21 the inmates were all of one sex. Of the whole number, 4,221 were reported as permanent, and 566, or about one-eighth of the whole, as temporary; 2,208 were stated to have relatives in town. Board was paid by friends, or by themselves, for a total of 98 inmates.

Consumptive Inmates.

There were 127 consumptive cases found in 14 almshouses, viz., Boston (Long Island), 94; Gloucester, 1; Haverhill, 2; Lawrence, 8; Marlborough, 2; New Bedford, 1; North Brookfield, 1; Randolph, 1; Taunton, 3; Wakefield, 1; Westborough,

1; Winchendon, 1; Woburn, 1; Worcester, 10. It was reported that the 107 patients in Boston (Long Island), Haverhill, Lawrence, New Bedford, Westborough, and Winchendon were separated from the rest of the inmates, and received special treatment and diet; that the patient at Wakefield was separated from the other inmates, but received no special treatment or diet; that the 10 patients at Worcester were partly separated from the other inmates, and received special treatment and diet; and that the 9 patients at Gloucester, Marlborough, North Brookfield, Randolph, Taunton, and Woburn were not separated from the other inmates, and received no special treatment or diet. There is a marked general improvement in the matter of the segregation and care of consumptive inmates, but a greater degree of watchfulness in this respect on the part of some of the town officials is much to be desired.

Defective Inmates.

In 172 almshouses there were a total of 905 defective inmates, of whom 280 were reported as idiotic, 55 epileptic, 435 cripples, 89 blind, 23 idiotic and cripples, 9 epileptic and cripples, 5 blind and cripples, 1 deaf, dumb, and a cripple, 4 deaf and dumb, 1 idiotic and blind, 2 deaf and blind, 1 feeble-minded.

Able-bodied Inmates.

Able-bodied inmates under sixty years of age are reported to have been found during the past year in the following almshouses: Ashland, 1; Boston (Long Island), 37; Brockton, 3; Canton, 3; Clinton, 1; Fall River, 32; Fitchburg, 3; Groveland, 1; Holyoke, 4; Hudson, 2; Lowell, 23; Marlborough, 5; New Bedford, 7; North Adams, 1; Peabody, 1; Salem, 4; Southbridge, 3; Waltham, 2; total, 133.

The number of inmates of this class, most of them probably alcoholic cases, is not so large as formerly, but there are still far too many of them, and there is little doubt that increased exertion and closer watchfulness on the part of the wardens and of the Overseers of the Poor would materially reduce the number. The following is the veritable form of a ticket of admission issued to an individual of this character: "Please admit Mr. ——— to the almshouse for his usual temporary rest. When able and ready to go, do not detain him." How to meet such unfortunates at the outset, find employment for them, keep them at work, and save them from pauperism, is a problem far from solution, but still well worth studying, not only for the sake of those immediately concerned, but for the common welfare.

Vagrants.

During the past seven years the number of tramps or vagrants cared for in almshouses has decreased from 34,564, in 1901, to 423 during the last year. Three years ago 89 almshouses cared for 15,491 vagrants; two years ago 61 almshouses cared for a total of 7,900; one year ago 26 almshouses provided for 3,127; and during the last year a total of only 423 tramps were found in 26 almshouses. In 24 of these they were wholly separated from the other inmates, as the law requires, and were lodged and fed; in 1, they were separated and lodged only, and in 1, they were fed only. The almshouses having tramps were: Adams, 2; Barnstable, 3; Belchertown, 5; Boylston, 3; Brimfield, 6; Duxbury, 2; Foxborough, 2; Gloucester, 29; Harwich, 2; Lancaster, 12; Lunenburg, 2; Marshfield, 7; Medway, 20; North Attleborough, 89; North Reading, 3; Norton, 107; Rehoboth, 30; Sherborn, 2; Somerset, 3; Spencer, 3; Sturbridge, 12; Stow, 30; Sutton, 2; Wareham, 39; Westford, 7; Yarmouth, 1.

Bathing.

According to the inspector's reports, weekly bathing of all the inmates was required in 161 almshouses, fortnightly bathing in 12, monthly bathing in 4, weekly bathing in summer and monthly in winter in 2, weekly bathing in summer and fortnightly in winter in 1, weekly bathing in summer only in 1, bathing once in three weeks in 2; and in 9 cases no bathing rules were enforced. The standard of weekly bathing is sufficiently low, and it is greatly to be regretted that so large a number of towns fail to reach it. Towns reported as falling below the standard are Ashburnham, Billerica, Blackstone, Chelmsford, Clinton, Dighton, Douglas, East Bridgewater, Greenwich, Groveland, Hanson, Hardwick, Harwich, Hawley, Lunenburg, Marshfield, Medway, Monson, Montague, Norton, Oxford, Provincetown, Randolph, Rowley, Stow, Uxbridge, Watertown, Wayland, West Newbury, Wilmington.

Libraries of Books.

The following towns provide libraries of books for the inmates: Boston (Long Island), Framingham, Lawrence, Malden, Manchester, Medfield, Melrose, Newton, North Andover, Sherborn, Stoneham, Townsend, Waltham, and Woburn; and in a few other instances newspapers are regularly supplied.

Farm and Farm Products.

In connection with the 192 almshouses is a total of about 19,000 acres; of these, during the past year, 1,532 were ploughed and 6,267 tilled. Among the towns having the largest acreage are Belchertown, with 500 acres; Gardner, with 400 acres; Worcester, with 387 acres; Ipswich, with 370 acres; and North Adams and Brookfield, with 300 acres each. Worcester tills 150 acres; Boston (Long Island), 130 acres; Ipswich, 120 acres; and Saugus, Haverhill, and Carlisle, 100 acres each. At 110 almshouses milk and vegetables are produced; at 33, vegetables alone; at 16, milk alone; at 8, hay, milk, and vegetables; at 7, milk and hay; at 4, butter and vegetables; at 4, hay and vegetables; at 2, milk, pork, and vegetables; at 2, milk, eggs, and vegetables; at 1, butter and cream; at 1, milk, pork, vegetables, and hay; at 1, milk and eggs; at 1, milk, hay, and fruit; at 1, milk, vegetables, and poultry; at 1, milk and pork.

The Overseers of the Poor were again reminded of the extreme importance of providing for the erection of a new almshouse building.

On August 20, 1908, the Overseers communicated to the Board their intention of building a six-room cottage on the westerly end of the almshouse, for the matron, nurses, and help, and of using the rooms now occupied by the matron for hospital purposes, and of making a few other changes in the main buildings. The Board replied, signifying its approval of the proposed plan, but again emphasizing its previously expressed opinion of the pressing need of the erection of a new building with the least possible delay.

NOTE. — The large amount of "Extraordinary Expenses" classed as miscellaneous includes in many cases expenses of previous years at the lunatic hospitals and the School for Feeble-Minded; payment being withheld until liability was determined by the courts. Boston and Cambridge paid five-sixths of these expenses, viz.: $53,016 out of the $64,547. A small portion also of the expenditures reported as ordinary might fairly be considered as extraordinary; the amount cannot be determined for lack of details. The table shows that the total expenditures for full support were, — at the almshouses $1,066,342, at other institutions, chiefly of the State, $160,910, and in private families $141,067, — in all $1,368,319; that temporary relief, or partial support, called for $921,700; and that administration expenses were $194,721; making the total current expenditures $2,484,740. Income from farm products ($303,916) and reimbursements for support or relief ($196,953) amounted to $500,869, leaving the net expenses for the year $1,983,871; an increase of nearly $100,000 as compared with the previous year.

[1] Includes 1 in an institution.

[2] Viz.: — 23 in almshouses, 50 in hospital cottages, 3 in private families.

[3] Of these 44 were supported in more than one place in the course of the year.

Note. — Of the whole number who were relieved or supported within the year — 69,161 — 30,031 were under 16 years of age, 3,748 others under 21, while 1,121 were over 80 years of age, 3,129 others between 70 and 80, and 4,427 others between 60 and 70; it thus appears that one-eighth of all the poor were above 60 years of age, and nearly one-half were under 16. The foreign born were 18,978, or more than one-fourth of the whole number.

NOTE. — The above Table X., like Tables VIII. and IX., combines the State pauper statistics for the State institution ending since 1906 on November 30, but previously on September 30, with those of town paupers for the years ending on March 31, in the same calendar year. Though the figures of the two classes do not cover precisely the same period, the aggregates may be considered sufficiently correct for purposes of comparing different years. The table continues to include all the dependent insane, though not now under supervision as paupers.
